Victory Of Ohio Klansmen Indicates Trend of Thought In U. S. To Marked Degree

By The United Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Election results in thirteen states showed that neither the republican nor democratic parties could claim any great reversal from that shown by the last general election.

No accurate appraisal of the nation's trend could be obtained but more encouragement for the democrats who are apparently holding the ground gained in 1922. One notable gain is in Kentucky, where the democrats elected the governor.

Democrats were disappointed in New York, where the republicans captured five assembly seats lost in the last election.

Ku Klux Klan victory in Ohio city elections seemed to point to the entrance of the Klan into state and national politics next year in a marked degree.

The drys won in New Jersey and the wets won in Maryland, where Governor Ritchie, wet sympathizer, was re-elected. However, there was little indication, generally, of a line up on prohibition.

The republican victory in Vermont is impressive enough to show that Coolidge is in no danger of a psychological repudiation which democrats sought to inflict. The republicans elected the senator and congressman. The election showed that next year is anybody's fight and nobody's victory right now.

Rotary Club To Hear S. P. Man Thursday

T. P. Huchingson is Rotary leader Thursday. The luncheon is to be held at the Majestic dining room on that occasion and an excellent program is a certainty, according to Rotary Ben F. Stollenwerck.

One of the features Thursday will be the Manager of the Southern Pacific address by S. G. Reid, Assistant to Railway Company, of Houston.

According to the records of the Mexia Rotary club, the following members are listed 100 per cent in attendance: Albert Berry, E. L. Fox, Hardie Rubanks, Tom Nolan, Ben F. Stollenwerck, Dick Wagner, T. G. Melnnedy, C. G. Puckett and Joe F. Strange.

The member hip of the club is now and the latest attendance in October was on the 18th, when 35 were present.

KLANSMEN GIVE UP BUT ARE RELEASED AT ONCE

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 7.—Three officials of the Klan surrendered on peace warrants issued as a result of the murder of W. S. Coburn by Phillip Fox, and demanded an immediate hearing. The warrants were sworn to by Dr. Fred B. Johnston, who said Fox threatened his life. Dr. H. W. Evans, also named in the warrants, is out of the city. Fox is to be examined by an alienist. He refuses to make a statement.

LATER FLASH

The peace warrants were dismissed for want of prosecution. Johnston went to Birmingham after being advised to stay within the court's jurisdiction.

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Nov. 7.—Coach Jones continued developing a passing offensive for the Minnesota game November 17.

Corsicana Welcomes Mexia Delegation To Convention

Headed by the Mexia Elks band and 40 Mexia citizens paraded the streets of Corsicana Tuesday and then on to the Corsicana Y. M. C. A. where a banquet was provided by the Lions club on behalf of the Tenth District Association of Advertisers. The 10th district is comprised of four states of the Southwest and the advertising brains of these states, Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and New Mexico were assembled at the tables. The Mexia delegation was met in the outskirts of the city by Boyce Martin of the Corsicana Sun and upon arrival in the business district, the Corsicana Sun band led the delegation through the streets. The Elks club added in their royal purple uniforms formed an attraction which caused the throngs on the crowded streets to pause and have a happy thought for Mexia.

All Mexinites in Corsicana wore badges: "Mexia, the Hub of the World's Greatest Oil Field."

The Mexia automobiles left here about ten o'clock and reached Corsicana about noon. Several of the autos carried large banners. Boyd and Forrest Realty Company carried a large banner on the back of their car bearing the words "Watch Mexia Grow." The Studebaker agency here contributed two cars, one of which driven by Charles Schmit bearing the slogan, "Mexia, the Hub of the World's Greatest Oil Field." The Mexia Daily News car carried a sign which read:

ELECTION NEWS

INVISIBLE EMPIRE WON IN MANY OHIO CITIES WHERE KLAN ISSUE WAS DOMINANT

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 7.—The Ku Klux Klan made virtually a clean sweep in nearly a score of Ohio cities where it was carried to the polls as a dominant issue in yesterday's city elections.

In Youngstown where the Klan fight was bitterest, the Invisible Empire, scored a clean cut victory in the election of Charles P. Schribel who was chosen Mayor over the nearest of his five opponents by a plurality of 10,630.

Other cities where the Klan claimed victory are: Newark, Portsmouth, Tiffin, Medina, Elyria, Washington Courthouse, Akron, Marion, East Liverpool, Ashland, Springfield, Maggotte Springs and Cooksville.

In Steubenville, scene of recent Klan controversy, R. B. Pennant, Klan favorite for Mayor, was defeated by Frank H. Hawkins, Republican.

AL SMITH LOSES IN N. Y.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 7—Hopes of Governor Smith to control the next lower House of the Legislature were shattered at yesterday's election.

Practically complete but unofficial returns here early today show the Republicans gained five seats in the Lower House.

The Democrats gained in New York City, winning the sixth and twenty-third districts. They also gained in the first Albany district.

Apparently the Republicans returned Victor Kauffman from New York City.

These gains, however, were offset by Republican gains up-State where the G. O. P. recaptured members from Columbia, Schuyler, Rockland, the second Renssalaer, the first Oneida and the fifth Erie.

REPUBLICAN WINS IN VERMONT

MONTPELIER, Vt., Nov. 7.—Former Congressman Porter R. Dale, Republican, was elected to the United States Senate in a special senatorial election in Vermont yesterday, defeating Park H. Pollard, Democrat, and cousin of President Coolidge.

Returns from 248 cities and towns in the State give Dale 30,630 votes and Pollard 16,631.

In special congressional election to fill the place left vacant when Dale resigned to run for the Senate following the death of Senator William P. Dillingham, Colonel Ernest W. Gibson, Republican, was elected over Burton E. Bailey, Democrat. Returns gave Gibson 17,613 and Bailey 4,172 votes.

NEW JERSEYL DRY REPUBLICANS WIN.

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 7.—Republican legislative candidates of Camden county, running on a 'dry' platform were elected over candidates of the Non-Partisan, or fusion party, opponents of the wet cause, by a plurality of about 2,000 in yesterday's election, according to early returns today.

DEPUBLICANS WIN IN PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 7.—W. Freeland Kendrick, old guard Republican today is Mayor-elect of Philadelphia, having defeated A. Raymond Raff, his Democratic opponent by a plurality of approximately 210,000 in Tuesday's elections. All other Republican candidates for judicial and municipal offices were successful in the election.

DISORDERLY ELECTIONS IN PENNSYLVANIA

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 7.—Nineteen ballot boxes were impounded during the night, following what was declared the "most disorderly election in years."

Charges of fraud, complaint of election officers and appeals of help to quell disorders poured into the sheriff's office over telephones from early yesterday until early today.

Earl returns indicate that the Republicans county ticket has been elected except in a few offices. The city election was still in doubt with the two tickets running neck-and-neck.

TAMMANY DEMOCRATS WIN IN NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Democratic judiciary candidates were elected by a plurality of from 130,000 to 140,000 by Tammany and the Democratic organizations in the other counties of New York City, it was indicated today.

Democratic newspapers conceded the Republican majority in the State Assembly would be 22.

In the city the proposal to increase salaries of firemen and police carried by a safe margin.

The water power project was defeated and the soldiers' bonus won.

DEMOCRATS WIN KENTUCKY GOVERNORSHIP.

COVINGTON, Ky., Nov. 7.—Democracy returned to the saddle in Kentucky after four years of Republican government in the Blue Grass State, when W. J. Fields of Olive Hill was elected Governor over Charles I. Dawson of Pineville.

The Democratic nominee won by 15,000 plurality, his supporters estimated. Dawson conceded defeat early today.

H. B. Denhart, Democratic nominee for lieutenant-governor, ran far behind his ticket. He was scratched heavily in Northen Kentucky, where his activities in command of a national guard unit sent to suppress strike disorders were resented. Whether his opponent, Ellerie W. Carter, Republican, nosed him out still was uncertain today.

Mustaph aKemal Elected Turkish President.

Mustapha Kemal Pasha, Ismet Pasha (Below)

Turkey having been declared a republic, with Angora as its capital, Mustapha Kemal Pasha, who commanded the Turkish armies which successfully defended the Darnanelles in the World War and who drove the Greeks into the sea at Salonica, has been elected its President for a term of four years. He at once selected Ismet Pasha, his hirght-hand man both in the army and in political life, as his Premier.

Junk Law Not Constitutional, Says High Court

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 7.—The junk law, providing that junk dealers secure affidavits from persons selling them commodities, was held unconstitutional by the Court of Criminal Appeals because it violates the State and Federal constitutions and restrains trade and in discriminatory. It reversed the fine of A. Stroll of Falls county, a dealer charged with its violation.

At Morningside Hospital She Refuses To Tell Their Names

TULSA, Okla. Nov. 7.—Mrs. Dorothy Smith, 35, was attacked by two men in his apartment last night, who cut off her hair and lashed her with a knife across her arm, limbs and back, she told authorities today.

At Morningside Hospital, Mrs. Smith refused to reveal the identity of the two men, who, after attacking her, threw her in her bath tub. Officers found her hair in the tub, but could find none of her clothing in her apartment.

CASON TO BECOME MEMBER OF J. I. RIDDLE AND COMPANY; RESIGNS FROM TELEPHONE CO.

According to an announcement made this morning Jere Cason has resigned his position as manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company at Mexia, Teague, Wortham and Thornton and will hereafter be identified with the J. I. Riddle Furniture Company, in which he has secured an interest.

Mr. Cason states that as soon as he can be relieved in his present duties, he will assume his new ones with the Riddle Furniture houses here.

Mr. Riddle, in speaking of the new transaction stated that it was with much pleasure that he announced the addition of Mr. Cason to the old established firm. Mr. Cason has been in Mexia almost a year, in his present capacity and all during this period has identified himself with the Lions club, Salesmanship club and other civic organizations which work for Greater Mexia. He is an enthusiastic young business man and under his efficient management, the local telephone company has been afforded a high class service and plans for extensions and expansions are already well under way here.

Mr. Cason will have charge of the advertising for the firm and will be on the outside considerably, spreading the gospel of J. I. Riddle and Mexia throughout the widening trade territory.

It is likely that his new relations will be assumed about the twentieth of November.

French To Submit Note To British On Payment Plan

By JOHN DE GANDT,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Nov. 7.—Premier Poincare has sent a note to England saying French experts are drafting a program for the proposed conference to discuss German's capacity to pay reparations, it was reported in well informed circles today.

The French program will be submitted to England for approval before being sent to Washington as an invitation for the United States to participate in the conference, according to the report.

It was reported today that Premier Poincare's fresh instructions to Ambassador Jusserand in Washington explain that the proposed conference of experts may examine the questions of the Ruhr and German's resources, but can not pass judgement on French action in occupying the additional German territory.

France also will refuse to allow discussion of the contracts recently made between herself and German interests and will not consider discussion of Germany's capacity to pay until a time when she feels it is possible to evaluate this capacity with a fair degree of accuracy.

General Maginot, minister of war, departed today for Dusseldorf presumably in connection with Poincare's new demand that Germany permit the interallied military control commission to resume their work including determination of whether or not Germany has more than the 100,000 armed men allowed by treaty of Versailles.

Ouster Suit Is Much Befogged

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 7.—With consideration of J. C. Walton's petition for Federal interference in the muddled State political situation scheduled for 1 o'clock today before Federal Judge John Cotterall at Lawton and his reply to the House charges before the impeachment court due at 1:30 o'clock, the status of the State's noted ouster suit was befogged today.

Attorney General George Short and four members of the House, Jess Pullen, C. W. Miller, T. H. Wren and Dave Stovall, were to appear in Federal court at Lawton to fight Walton's petition for a resrtaining order halting his trial for impeachment.

The Governor's attempt to throw the case into the Federal court will have no delaying effect upon the start of the trial, the House board of managers stated here today.

"We will abide by any decision of the Federal court but Governor Walton's trial preliminaries will open at the scheduled time today," W. E. Disney, House prosecution leader declared.

Walton's petition for Federal interference was field in Federal court at noon yesterday, but Judge Cotterall withheld action upon the ground that defendants in the action had not been notified of the action.

Mexia Pastors Organize Ministerial Association

The active ministers of Mexia met at the home of Rev. W. B. Andrews last Monday and organized the Ministerial Association of Mexia. Rev. W. B. Andrews was elected chairman, Rev. G. T. Reaves, secretary and Rev. Joe Jeffers treasurer. After the ministers had related some of their experiences in their chosen profession in ministering to the needs of others, both in spiritual and temporal way, they outlined their plans for the first union service for the churches of Mexia. This service will be on Thanksgiving, (Nov. 29th) and as so many people wish to go hunting and visiting on that day the ministers thought it best for all concerned to have the Thanksgiving service at 7:30 in the evening. The joys and the worries of the big dinners will be over and the people can enjoy the service better in the evening. Rev. Joe Jeffers will be in charge of the music, Rev. W. B. Andrews will have charge of the service, and Rev. G. T. Reaves will deliver the sermon. The service will be held in the Baptist church. We expect to make this one of the best Thanksgiving services ever held in Mexia, one to be enjoyed and remembered; so please keep it in mind, and plan the affairs of the day so you can be there, for every American citizen should consider it a pleasure and also a duty to attend Thanksgiving services, says Rev. G. T. Reaves, in speaking of the program.

WAKE UP, MERCHANTS

It was regretable Tuesday that so few of the big business men of Mexia took advantage of the opportunity to go to Corsicana with the Mexia delegation, hear some of the world's greatest ad men on their own subjects and to place Mexia before the entire country.

The Mexia party was small in comparison with what it should have been. In fact had it not been for the Elks band, that superb musical organization of loyal young citizens, the trip would have been a failure in so far as attendance was concerned.

The address of Theo H. Price, Editor of Commerce and Finance, of New York City, at the luncheon hour and the explanation of the Neosha plan in the afternoon were features that brought many a business man thousands of miles to hear. Yet, many Mexia business men, within a two hours ride of the convention, held back, thinking that it was but a work of boys and youthful citizens to whoop 'em up for Mexia at Corsicana.

Mexia business men must realize that Mexia is not now "as she used to be" "in the good old days." Mexia is a growing city, situated in the center of a territory with live competitors elsewhere. Mexia's business men must intelligently equip themselves with all the knowledge possible for them to gain in order to keep abreast of the times and in order to know just as much of a subject as the other fellow. In this day and time, the conqueror is the man who gives his foe credit for being just as strong and just as intelligent and just as well equipped as he is himself. He wins then because he has overestimated his competitor rather than underestimated him. This is likewise true in business.

To be a greater Mexia, Mexia merchants must abandon their small town ways and show their alertness in taking advantage of every opportunity to "study" their own business and to help spread the gospel of Mexia whenever there is an opportunity.

This same lack of foresight was responsible for the Trade Tour over Mexia territory by Mexia business men being a "fluke" and abandoned.

Wake up, merchants!

Don't be provincial!

America is not bordered by the city limits of Mexia, nor is Mexia's trade territory limited to the rural routes out of this city.

NEW INVENTIONS

A scientist in the West claims to have made progress in production and control of lighting, with devastating possibilities. A scientist in the East reports progress in bottling sunshine. These notes may be of interest to students of advancing science, but the layman acquainted with bootleg booze will incline to opinion that the makers of outlawed liquor have beaten both to it.

They have been producing lightning, in liquid form, since the adoption of the eighteenth amendment and have used that product with devastating effect. Bottled moonshine is even more deadly than imprisoned sunshine. If the country seeks a terrible weapon to hurl at the enemy, let it choose bootleg booze.

Every department in Washington has gone on record as needing more money, a condition which unfortunately is shared by the gentleman who keeps all of them running.

THE ROMANCE OF TANGLEFOOT

By E H WOLFF

The loose ends of this story were first woven in Germany many years ago but the culmination as I know it did not happen until nearly a century later, in one of the large hop fields of California along about the year 1914. It represents in a small way the cunning of one man pitted against that of a corporation fully as large as any Texas Oil Trust and in which the lone man played a lone hand, won out and left the corporation standing with its mouth open and wondering just how it happened

In the grim backwoods of Germany a small family struggled along in the usual German peasant style—love the Emperor, without asking why, send your sons to the Army, pay your honest debts, and say nothing This particular method of living did not appeal to the oldest son, he packed his bag and started for the city, he entered college, worked for his board and room and tuition In due time he walked down the college stairs for the time, his sheepskin under his arm, nothing in his jeans and some big ideas of America in his head

While in college he specialized in Chemistry, becoming rich in knowledge and poor in the long green But he found something, he discovered that certain chemicals powders, liquids and common sense when mixed together in a certain precise manner, from which there must not be the slightest hair breadth deviation would produce a substance that would not dry, but remain sticky, he may have discovered it accidentally; we do not know, but anyway he had the world with a strangle hold and half-nelson and never knew it, he had the old world by the tail with a down hill pull and was not wise, he was born too soon but this was not his fault His discovery gave to the world, to you and I to aunt Mary and uncle Johon a substance known as Tanglefoot, not the stuff that comes in quart bottles with a pretty lable but the kind that comes on sheets of yellow paper commonly known as fly paper So valuable did this product become that there is but one company in the world that has the patent right to produce it, it is known as the O & W Thum Company of Grand Rapids Michigan If the reader happens to have some sheets of Tanglefoot handy and looks at the trade mark on the margin he will see the name of Thum.

This young discoverer, with his Tanglefoot formula in his jeans, sailed with high hopes, good faith and Christian fortitude, in the steerage for America and was sterilized, deloused, and fumigated at Ellis Island with due and proper ceremony. Months later he found himself in the wilds of Western Canada with a heavy suit case and afflicted with a light stomach, he was down and out—out of money and out of luck Fortune took a turn and he chanced to meet a man to whom he sold the child of his brain, Tanglefoot, for the sum of one dollar That one dollar down through the years to the present time has made untold millions of dollars to the man who bought it—one of the Thum brothers but the man who discovered it, took his dollar, spent it for a meal and that is the end of him, so far as this tale is concerned

Now comes the second part of the story Long before Mr Volstead came into prominence we had in this country a beverage known as beer but since the advent of brother Volstead we no longer have beer but use near-beer and that is as near as you get it Beer in the olden days was made from a small berry knows as hops Hops grow but in few parts of the world, in this country it grows mostly in California in the Sacramento Valley and Northwest Canada and the hop industry in those days represented to California what cotton does to the South today With the coming of cotton there also came a little mischievous bug called the boll weevil, with the hops came a similar bug which did as much damage to the hops as the weevil did to cotton This same bug became the center of interest among the hop growers of California in a mad effort to stamp it out, all manner of poisons, sprayings, dustings and cussings were resorted to but the little bug had a season ticket and refused to die either a natural or unnatural death

Some one suggested that Tanglefoot would be the proper caper and would catch the festive bug but it only came on fly paper, they wanted it in barrels to apply with a fire hose, concrete mixer, and a steam shovel with steam up. No fly paper would not do. Somebody further suggested hiring a chemist to analyze the stuff, learn the process of making Tanglefoot and produce it in their own plant. A chemist was hired, installed in a small laboratory equipped with a microscope, scales, pots, pans, kettles, tubes, burners and many other incidentals and detirmentals. The chemist set to work to produce his first batch of Tanglefoot. It did precisely and exactly what it should not have done—it worked backwards perfectly—it hardened and became as a stone and likewise caught no flies, moss, bugs nor insects. The next mixture was produced but it hardened in winter until one could see his relfection in its hard glossy surface and this and when the elusive Tanglefoot acted like state of affairs lasted until summer a piece of ice on a hot stove, in other words it melted and ran like the devil from holy water. The weeks passed into months but the Tanglefoot still refused to tangle anything. Flies, bugs and insects walked across its glossy surface, laughed, tangoed, turkeytrotted and shimmied about it without fear. Tangle foot was all wrong—the color was wrong—the smell was missing and the stick qualities fell by the way-side but the chemist was a wise old bird and knew that if he persisted he would eventually get a toe hold and bring home the bacon

For two years the chemist wrestled with his problem, he analyzed it, boiled, cooked, fried, stewed and tasted it, did everything but ate it—it was too hard to eat. He used all manner of technical, non technical essential and non-essential words in discussing Tanglefoot but still it acted like an unruly step-child with the Deacon for dinner The corporation that hired him at a good salary including room and board were beginning to get hot under the collar at the non- appearance of Tanglefoot Money was fast going out of the kittie with no returns in sight but mis-behaved Tanglefoot Our office had long since lost the appearance of being a respectable place in which we earned our daily bread in the sweat of our brow and shiny trousers, it took on the aspect of a battlefield after a German retreat Our chairs desks, window seats and every available spot was filled high with metal boxes of alleged tanglefoot that refused to soften in winter or remain so it should in summer and as a joke, it long since lost its jokeability and became a nuisance worse than a pest house inside the city limits We heard nothing from the chemist but Tanglefoot He was getting buggy himself puttering all day and half the night over his pots, pans, kettles and burners until he reminded one of a witch fortune teller stirring her iron pots in the dark of the moon

One day—one of those balmy days of late summer, the little laboratory door was locked; no one suspected any thing wrong but we all secretly hoped that the chemist had chucked his job and fled in shame and disgrace. But no such luck was ours. In the course of a few days a letter came to the president of the corporation, reading something like this:

"Gentlemen I wish to inform you that I have discovered the process of producing Tanglefoot and will sell you the exact formula for fifty thousand dollars."

Thus ends the tale of the Tanglefoot; it proved the cunning of one man against a corporation; he was hired to analyze a product and to discover the secret of making it and after many months of day and night labor he was successful and offered to sell his employers the identical secret they hired him to find

A REAL MAN.

Lynch Davidson was introduced to the Rotarians of Waco as "the next governor of Texas" Well, fellow-citizens, we could go further and fare worse Those of you who have been shouting "A business man for governor," have your opportunity in Lynch Davidson He took the state's railroad and converted it from a liability into an asset He has offered what seems to be the best solution of the penitentiary problem, to-wit Put the men to work on the highways.—Waco Times-Herald.

Davidson has made good as a business man and a statesman, too He made the state railroad, running from Rusk, a place where former statesmen dreamed about iron works and smelters and another Pittsburgh. A penitentiary was located there and the convicts were to manufacture stoves, gas pipe, wagon parts and other articles, and all to be hauled out on the state railroad The road proved to be a losing deal until Davidson was given charge to put new life into it. He, like other governors, has a problem in the penitentiary system —Sherman Chronicle

Lynch Davidson is a real man in every sense of the word. He is a self-made man and neither he nor his friends have ever had occasion to be ashamed of the job. Lynch Davidson regards the state government as an immense business institution to be directed and operated for the benefit of the citizens who are stockholders in the corporation The problems with which the governor has to deal relate to business management And just as he has successfully managed and increased his private enterprises so will he overcome the difficulties that for years have prevented payment of dividends in the form of better government at less cost to the taxpayers.—Denison Herald.

How to tell for sure —what oil your car needs

No. 5 in the series

Perhaps you own a Chevrolet

(Superior or 490)

If you don't own a Chevrolet, cut this out and hand it to a friend who does

Your Chevrolet engine is of valve-in-head construction and designed for high compression pressures of approximately 87 pounds

The lubricating system is of the splash circulating type. The gear type oil pump is in an exposed position directly in back of the radiator and is considerably above the level of the oil in the reservoir There are long lengths of exposed oil piping on both the suction and discharge sides of the pump

All engine parts except the centre crank shaft bearing are lubricated by an oil mist caused by the dipping of the connecting rod splashers in the oil troughs provided under each cylinder Oil is forced under pressure to the centre crank-shaft bearing

Carbon deposits in this engine, because of the high compression pressures and combustion chamber construction, are particularly objectionable Correct lubrication is essential to the maintenance of high efficiency Gargoyle Mobiloil Arctic will leave a minimum of carbon deposits, and is of the correct body and character to provide adequate engine lubrication under all operating conditions.

The use of Gargoyle Mobiloil Arctic both summer and winter will assure correct engine lubrication and lead to the satisfactory performance you have a right to expect of your Chevrolet.

next friday, we will tell you about the Correct Lubrication of another car It may be yours Watch for it.

Mexia Twenty Years Ago

Compiled By N. P. Houx
From Files of Mexia Evening News
Of Nov. 7, 1903.

Miss Gerda Epperson is visiting Miss Myrtle Mathis at Tehuacana.

Mrs. Hugh Everett is slowly recovering from a spell of typhoid fever.

Miss Moiner Means has returned from a several weeks visit in Stamford.

Judge Bob Bell was in from Armour today and paid our office a business visit.

There is a ten pound girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Waller Cosnahan.

Miss Kate Hunt of Point Enterprise is at Coolidge visiting her sister, Mrs. Hattie Moore.

The roof is now being put on the T. & B. V. depot and it won't be long until it is a house.

Mrs. T. A. White has returned from Marlin, where she has been for several days for her health, and she is much improved.

Dave Sellers and wife of Shiloh left Friday afternoon for Bessemer, Ala., which place they will make their future home.

There will be a public auction of town lots at Coolidge next Wednesday. Excursion rates on the Trinity and Brazos Valley railroad. All are assured of a welcome.

Editorial.—Adjutant General Hulen went to San Antonio to confer with the authorities about raising the quarantine, and now they will have to raise it before the general can return to Austin.

L. W. Rogers, living at Forest Glade, brought to town Tuesday a couple of stalks of tall corn. One he left at Clark & Stevens store and the other at the Clark drug store. They are 16 feet tall and it is 12 feet to the first ear of corn. Each stalk contains two large ears.

T. A. Griffith is in Waco serving as a federal grand juror.

Died at Ennis

Mrs. Sarah A. Houx died at the home of her sister in Ennis last Sunday morning after an illness of about two weeks from typhoid pneumonia. She was the mother of Col. N. P. Houx, editor of this paper.

Her remains were carried to Hempstead, the old home of the family, for burial.

The entire News force offers their sympathies to their chief in his hour of bereavement.

COBB BELONGS ON HONOR ROLL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—As a matter of fairness, in addition to the motive of making it historically accurate, baseball heads should not start with the year 1922 in memorializing the outstanding heroes of baseball.

The American League is about to erect a monument to the national game in the national park at Washington. This monument will display prominently a tablet upon which is to be inscribed the star players of the league.

The first name on the monument will be that of George Sisler, the great first baseman of the St. Louis Browns who was voted the most valuable player of the American League for the 1922 season.

Below the name of the Brown star will appear that of Babe Ruth, the great Yankee outfielder, who received the highest possible vote as 1923's most valuable player.

There is no reason why the names of those two great players should not appear on a monument which is designed to hand down to posterity the record and fame of the game's outstanding stars.

Sisler, beyond doubt is, or has been, one of baseball's greatest players, and Ruth, if not the greatest of them all, surely has been the most spectacular.

However, there are reasons too obvious to mention and too numerous to recount why the list should not start with the star of 1922.

If the United States government should decide to erect a national monument as a memorial to its great war leaders, it most certainly would not start with General Pershing. It would not head the list of foremost statesmen with the outstanding national figure of 1922. It would not pass by the name of Lincoln simply because the appropriation for the monument and the motive which inspired it came after his day.

The American League monument never will live up to the purpose for which it was designed if its tablet does not bear the name of Ty Cobb.

Memory and the record books are not necessary to recall the deeds of the great Cobb, whose record over a long stretch of years is the greatest in baseball.

Technically, the American League board of directors might feel that it was not the province to dig into the past and pull out dusty names for embellishment, but it does not have to go down deep in the archives for proof of Cobb's right to a ranking with the greatest of all stars.

It is safe to assert that if the question of Cobb's right to a place on the tablet would be put to a vote of every baseball writer in the country, Cobb's name would get on the tablet without a negative ballot.

JACK MULHALL IN "FORGOTTEN LAW"

Jack Mulhall, one of filmdom's most popular leading men, plays an important role in Metro's "The Forgotten Law," at the Grand Theatre, produced under the personal supervision of Max Graf.

The part of Victor Jarnette an impulsive young husband who invokes an ancient law to will his child away from the custody of its mother, gives Mr. Mulhall an opportunity to display his screen versatility by portraying the character in its shifting phases of cruelty weakness and contrition.

Mr. Mulhall's previous Metro appearances have been in "Should a Woman Tell?" the all-star melodrama "The Hope" and the "The Offshore Pirate." His first dramatic activities were a member of a dramatic club at Columbia University. Upon graduation he was offered an engagement with the Lambs company in New York and following two years Mr. Mulhall started out on a circuit lead in over a dozen different plays. Then he went to Hollywood in support of Viola Dana. At the end of the year he secured motion pictures with Biograph for four years. He could succeed in all the lines he aspired for Metro.

In "The Forgotten Law" Mr. Mulhall is associated with other distinguished players, including Milton Sills and Cleo Ridgley. The photoplay is based upon Caroline Abbott Stanley's famous novel, "A Modern Madonna," which depicts how obsolete laws may be invoked to satisfy a grudge and many persons be made unhappy. The law in question was one which actually existed in Washington, D. C., but was wiped out of existence due to the tremendous appeal of Mrs. Stanley's story. Still, there are many obsolete old laws remaining on the statute books and "The Forgotten Law," aside from its dramatic potency as a story, will serve to bring public attention to their superannuated existence.

WANT APOLOGIES AND FLAG SALUTE

ATHENS, Nov. 6.—Jugo Slavia started the concentration of troops along the Bulgarian border as a warning to back up the ultimatum demanding apologies for an affront to its military attache at Sofia. The Jugo-Slavian government demanded complete apologies and a salute of its flag by Bulgaria.

Startling Statement If Foung to Be True

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 7.—Here's some real news!

Five breweries are operating in Texas and the beer turned out has a five percent kick. Some of the products they turn out is said to be even better than that of pre-Volstead days.

Allen Bailey, federal pro agent, is authority for the above dry statement.

"The breweries are located at San Antonio, Galveston, Austin, Dallas, and New Braunfels. The beer they manufacture has all the earmarks of the real stuff—until the kick is removed.

That's all Bailey would tell.

RODNEY TIDWELL CANDICATE FOR KAREM RING

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Mexia Shrine Club last night, which met for the purpose of making plans for the special train to be operated to Waco for Karems big fall cemeronial; Rodnow Tidwell, a novice for the big affair was elected a candidate for Karems big diamond ring, which will be given to the most popular candidate in attendance on the big day.

Much enthusiasm was displayed and the Shrine Club pledged their 100 per cent support for their favorite and Noble Upshaw arose amid cheers of the crowd and announced that Teague would not offer a candidate this year, but would support Mexia's own choice.

Novice Tidwell is busy today getting his campaign managers together and will have something to say to the public within the next few days regarding his race for the ring, stating his platform and other particulars.

Mexia divided honors with Bryan at the May ceremonial with their popular candidate Noble Wyatt Hayter, who brough home the bacon for the Mexia Shrine Club.

The club now bids fair to prosper through the coming months; there being several candidates from Mexia, Teague, Coolidge, Wortham and other nearby towns who will make the pilgrimage to Waco on Nov. 22nd.

People Who Were Pimply Faced

Are so happy about their experience with the wonderful Black and White Ointment which gets rid of all skin worries, that they would like to tell those who are still troubled with such things as blotches, pimples, bumps, rash, eczema, "breaking out," etc., how foolish they are to keep on going around looking like they had lost all their interest in life.

It is simply a question of knowing what it takes to clear out these diseases of the skin, and the makers of Black and White Ointment seem to have just what the skin needs to get rid of them quickly. The fact that nearly two million packages of it are sold every year proves how successful it is.

Black and White Ointment is economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size. All dealers have it. (Adv.)

The Mexia Black Cats sure did have tough luck when they struck the Corsicana Tigers Monday. Varnell carried the ball over the goal line for Corsicana four minutes before the game ended, making the only touchdown of the game. Dillon kicked goal for an extra point, the final score being 7 to 0 in favor of the Tigers. The punting of Kendrick for Mexia and Dillon for Corsicana were the features of the game.

"Bo" McMillan the wonder football player from Centre has proven that he can coach just about as well as he can play, and that is going some. He leads his Centenary squad to Boston next Saturday where they will show the Boston College a few things on the gridiron.

Georgia Tech invades the east Saturday and tackle Penn State at State College, Pa. Alabama held them to a scoreless tie last Saturday. It does not look like the same Georgia Tech of the Flowers and Barron days but we know that they always make a good showing no matter what the odds.

Waco will be the scene of another conference battle next Saturday, November the 10th. If a miracle does not happen one of the three remaining teams will be eliminated. Texas will invade the Bears' den much the favorite, but then what is dope?

S. M. U. faces Arkansas at Dallas Saturday, the Razorbacks have already been defeated by both Baylor and Oklahoma A. & M. The Mustangs are going to be hard to shake when the conference honors are passed around.

Break A Chest Cold With Heat Of Red Peppers

Ease your tight, aching chest. Stop the pain. Break up the congestion. Feel a bad cold loosen up in just a short time.

"Red Pepper Rub" is the cold remedy that brings quickest relief. It cannot hurt you and it certainly seems to end the tightness and drive the congestion and soreness right out.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers, and when heat penetrates right down into colds, congestion, aching muscles and sore, stiff joints relief comes at once.

The moment you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes the congested spot is warmed through and through. When you are suffering from a cold, rheumatism, backache, stiff neck or sore muscles, just get a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, at any drug store. You will have the quickest relief known. Always say "Rowles."—(Adv.)

SURE IT DOES GOOD

Thedford's Black-Draught Liver Medicine (Vegetable) Praised by the Head of a Louisiana Family.

Lake Charles, La.—"I don't know what we would have done had we not had Black-Draught. It sure is one of the best medicines made, and am sure the best liver medicine," said Mr. Henry Garrett, of this city.

"My whole family uses it," continued Mr. Garrett. "My wife says she believes she kept off the 'flu' by taking doses of Black-Draught regularly.

"I, myself, use Black-Draught for indigestion, and it is fine.

"We used pills and tablets and other laxatives, but they never seemed to do us good, but the Black-Draught sure has, and it has come to our house to stay. We give it to our daughter for headache and torpid liver.

"I am glad to recommend anything that has been the help to my family that Black-Draught has.

"My present health is good. Have two boxes of Black-Draught in the house now."

If your liver gets out of fix, take Black-Draught. It will help to drive the bile poisons and other unhealthful matters out of your system.

Muscle and Control - Make Every Goal

ENERGY, strong muscles and steady nerves not only win the goals in football but all the other goals in life. And children have an excellent start toward making these goals when the foods they are served contain the elements which build and store up bodily energy and strong health.

The food element, Dextrose, which your doctor can tell you gives vigor and stamina to blood cells and tissue, is of utmost importance to growing children. And because Karo—either Blue Label or Red Label—contains such a large percentage of Dextrose, it is a most valuable food for them. They like the delicious tempting flavor, too.

MEXIA, A CITY OF HOMES

We like to have people speak of Mexia as a city of homes. Surely no higher tribute can be paid any town. Every man who is proud of his American citizenship should bend every energy, practice every economy, make every sacrifice to obtain a home for his family, for truly home is God's gift to man.

But there are people who have just started to save, couples young and only beginning the process of economy that makes toward home building. They cannot build themselves homes yet, they must rent them from those of us who have had a longer period of time for the accumulation for the wherewithal to build homes. And the sort of place we rent them will determine in a large measure whether or not they build that home in Mexia.

Many of these people—a large percent of them, are with corporations located here, people sent here from their homes in other cities. They are people who enjoy the comforts of a home who look upon the place where their dear ones live with them as their "castle," a refuge from the cares and worries of daily life. They are with us months often years, and some even always, depending on living conditions as they find them. Many of these younger with no children are active and intelligent members of our churches, our library and take an interest in every good movement, etc. as well all help Mexia grow and of whom Mexia may be justly proud. The rent may not all like that but many of the landlords do it as for them we spend.

And what are we doing to help these people who would rent home but until they can own their own. Have we even the places? Do we not hold in which one entertain and live the hideous furnished flat the result of inconveniences, the result of few conveniences? Have we not heard the exorbitant prices for the cheap places for which one may rent the most efficient small apartment in a city much larger than Mexia. Have we not an idea how many home seekers are hunting for really desirable places, places where they can enjoy their housekeeping and each night they can call home, where they can call home? Have you seen their disappointment and watched their drive for their surroundings grow and grow until they seize the first opportunity of getting out of Mexia. Do they tell it abroad that Mexia is a city of homes?

Why is Mexia so few desirable rent apartments? Our big business men have the money and are in a position to some way every day. Why could not be a syndicate of Mexia men interested in building a really modern apartment house or cottages, equipped up to date in plan and equipment. Using the figures and computations given us by a prominent lumber man of Mexia we find that an apartment of this kind, rented at a much lower rate than those to be had now, would pay taxes and better than ten percent on the investment. The demand for such an apartment would keep it filled and maintaining a long waiting list. Were that apartment ready tomorrow there are half a dozen couples who would, scramble for it, couples you know personally. They would furnish that apartment from our furniture, hardware and dry goods stores, supply their tables from our groceries, markets, dairys; make stanch believers in Mexia as a city of homes.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Little Wilmer Loofboorow entertained her friends with a birthday party Saturday, September 27.

Cut flowers and Hallowe'en decorations were used. Miss Ilene Westmoreland gave a reading, "The Birth of Christ." Music by Mrs. Billie Hudgins. Devil's food cake and hot chocolate were served. Many games were played and snap shots were taken. At the conclusion of the party they were lined up by Mrs. Jno. Morris and marched into the dining room. The table was decorated with magnolia blossoms. An angle food cake with 10 lighted candles and ice cream was served. Wilmer Loofboorow found the dime and Ralph Hudgins the button. The guests were

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mrs. Jno. Morris gave her husband a surprise birthday dinner on October 28th, at 8 p. m. A two course luncheon was served to a few of their friends. The first course consisted of fried chicken cream gravy, noodles, creamed potatoes, tomatoes, celery, coffee and wish cake. The second course consisted of a birthday cake with 36 lighted candles, peaches and whipped cream. The dining room was beautifully decorated with American Beauty roses and ferns. All reported a nice time.—A Guest.

Demand For Fords On The Increase

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 7.—Under the constantly growing demand for Ford products, domestic assembly plants of the Ford Motor Company, working at capacity in order to meet these increasing requirements, established a new production record for the week ending Tuesday, October 30th, the Ford News announces.

Daily output during the six day period averaged in excess of 7,000 and brought a total of 42,271 cars and trucks for the week, exceeding by 502 the previous high mark set up during the week ending September 25th. The lowest day's production of the last week was 6,890 and the highest 7,123.

The present record-breaking production of the Ford Motor Company is significant, continuing as it does thru this period of the year when winter months are at hand and when car deliveries as a rule begin to show decline. It reflects a generally prosperous condition in the country in which Ford products seem to be enjoying a large share.

The Fordson plant turned out 1,836 tractors during the week.

At the Lincoln division of the company production moved up to a new record for the week ending Tuesday with an output of 223 cars, six more than the previous week with its record of 217.

GAS IS NOW USED INSTEAD OF ICE IN REFRIGERATORS

ATLANTIC CITY, Nov. 7.—Refrigeration produced by the intense heat of a gas flame will soon replace ice-cooled refrigerators, was the prediction made today by H. De Witt Valentine of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company, of Chicago, at the convention of the American Gas Association.

According to Mr. Valentine the new form of refrigeration produced by a gas flame gives a uniform temperature approximately ten degrees below that obtained with ice.

"In the apartment building," Mr. Valentine said, "the gas fired ice unit is placed in the basement and is connected to the refrigerators in each apartment on the floors above. It operates automatically and has no motor, compressor or other movable parts."

When the machine was recently introduced in Chicago he said the gas company was besieged with such questions as, "Does the gas freeze?" "How is cold made from heat?" and "Where does the ice come from?"

My Secrets

Of beauty are yours now, if you wish

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I made myself a famous beauty and that beauty brought me glory. I have kept that beauty to a grand old age. After 40 years in the limelight, I still look a girl of 19.

These facts are due to helps I found through years of world wide searching. They are, I believe, the best beauty helps in existence. No one I know has in other ways, attained any like results.

So I have had these helps prepared and placed where all may get them. And I hope to see them bring to millions the benefits I got.

Just Four Will Do

These beauty helps comprise 32 different factors. But great experts have combined them in four preparations. And all are sold at modest prices which every girl and woman can afford.

One is my White Youth Clay. A clean refined clay vastly more efficient than ordinary clays. A clay perfected by French experts through 20 years of scientific study.

My White Youth Clay brings a new complexion, rosy clear and clean. It combats all lines and wrinkles. No woman who once tries it will ever go without it. It costs 50 cents and $1.

Youthful Bloom

My Youth Cream is a cold cream like nothing else you know. It contains both lemon and strawberry. French experts have embodied in it the best skin helps they know.

Apply it after the clay. Also use it as a night cream, also daytimes as a powder base. Keep it ever on the skin to feed and whiten, firm, soften and protect. The price is 60 cents.

My Facial Youth is a liquid cleanser, now used by leading beauty experts the world over. It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. So it cleans to the depths, then departs. And the dirt and refuse nothing else can reach comes with it. Great beauty experts charge $3 for it. Mine sells for 75 cents.

The Hair You Envy

My glorious hair is due to my Hair Youth. It is heavy, lustrous and grows finer every year. Falling hair, dandruff and gray hairs are unknown to me.

My Hair Youth is applied with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. It does not muss the hair. It keeps the scalp like a well kept garden where hair roots can flourish. It costs 50 cents and $1 with eye dropper.

All druggists and toilet counters supply these preparations, exactly as I use them. My Beauty book comes with each. They will bring you rich rewards. If you want more beauty, longer youth, these are the best ways science knows to get them. Edna Wallace Hopper. Business address, Waukesha, Wis.

MY BOY AND I.

I thought I heard him sobbing low
After the lights were out;
What is the matter, son, I said,
What're you crying about?
I don't want you to die, daddy,
The little fellow said;
And he nestled close up to me
As there we lay in bed.

Imagine how it startled me
To hear him talk like that;
A little boy of seven years,
What was he driving at?
(Before retiring we had play'd
As children love to play,
His brown eyes sparkling with delight,
His laughter loud and gay.)

You darling little boy, said I,
You must not feel so sad,
For I am young and strong and well
Just like my little lad.
But, daddy, I don't want to grow
And be a grown up man,
I want to stay a little boy
And how I hope I can!

Because when I'm a man, daddy
Then you will go and die;
I won't have any daddy then
And that's what makes me cry.
Why, son, you musn't talk that way
Nor ever fret or cry,
For I shall live for many years
Before I have to die.

(And still, I wonder if it's true!
There' much that I regret,
The many things, I've left undone
And many failures met;
I'd like to live a long long time
And do a world of good,
Inspiring thus my noble boys
As ev'ry father should.)

But, daddy, when I grow up big
Then you'll be old and gray,
Wrinkled and stoop'd and maybe ill
And we can't romp and play;
That's why I want to always be
A little romping boy
For then I know you'll never die
And we'll have lots of joy.

But, son, no one can live always,
At least upon this earth;
For some die young and some die old
And some must die at birth;
But if we live a noble life
And nothing ever shirk,
If we are kind and love all men
And study hard and work,

It matters not how long we live
Nor when we have to die,
For God is good and knows what's best
For folks like you and I.
The little fellow seem'ed to think
That what I said was right,
He put his arms about my neck
And hugg'd me hard and tight.

—Ben B. Hunt,
Mexia, Texas.

STEWART SAYS TEXAS MUST STRENGHEN OFFENSE

By MOULTON COBB

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 7.—"We will have to improve 50 per cent in our offense before we can hope to score one touchdown against Baylor University Saturday in Waco," stated E. J. "Doc" Stewart, the head Longhorn football coach, after seeing the Baylor-Aggie game last Saturday. "Our line will have to be strengthened, too, if we expect to hold the Bears in check," said Coach Stewart. The chief Longhorn mentor left his team in charge of Coaches Seldon and Waite when the locals played Rice here and went to Waco to watch his two most formidable foes in action.

"Baylor has a wonderful team this year," according to the Longhorn coach. The Bears won the Southwestern championship last year and judging from their record this year they are equally as strong now, Coach Stewart pointed out.

Since the Vanderbilt game the Longhorns have not played good football. The Southwestern Pirates recently ran through the Texas line at will in the first quarter. The Rice Owls stopped the Longhorn offense here Saturday. Joe Ward, a linesman, was put into the backfield in the third quarter. He was the only Longhorn player who could gain consistently against the Owls.

Realizing that his team has only an outside chance to win over Baylor, Coach Stewart is working his players overtime this week. He is particularly trying to improve the backfield. Bully Gilstrap, a regular end, is being used in the backfield in practice. Gilstrap is big and fast but has an injured hip. This injury has lessened his value to the team this year. Joe Ward is being used at full back in practice. Joe hits the line hard but is unaccustomed to playing in the backfield. The fact that these linesmen have been moved to the backfield shows that Coach Stewart believes that his present offense is inadequate, according to University athletic officials.

Pat Neff's Hat To Go In The Republican Ring

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 7—A thoroughly Democratic head piece upon a thoroughly Republican brow!

Apparently strongly believing in the disconcerting influence of such a combination, Governor Pat Neff has sent his Texas hat to Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania on condition he wear it to the Republican National Convention next year.

At the recent governor's conference in West Baden, Indiana, Pinchot was fascinated by the wide brimmed, black felt top piece of the Texas governor and asked to try it on. It fit perfectly. When Governor Neff returned home here he immediately sent Governor Pinchot the hat.

Tom Cats And Other Cats In Big Cat Show

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 7—"Meow!" The city auditorium resounded with the wails of members of the feline family, from the scrubby little alley denizen to the silky haired society pet as the three day Cat Show of the Houston Cat Club got under way here today.

Close to two hundred cats have entered for the show.

Fixed Principles

Some people say there is no such thing as a "fixed principle".

We maintain that the man who "saws wood and says little"—who works with his Hands and his Head—who spends a little less than he earns—who uses a good bank in every possible way is more likely to prove a success than the man who does not do these things.

We can prove that this is a winning principle at least, if not altogether a Fixed Principle.

We are anxious to back that sort of men.

Give Your Sole a Genuine Treat

You have thrown many a pair of good shoes away just becaues the soles were worn through. Perhaps the counters were out of shape, and the welts may have been "shot". Don't do it again. No matter what the condition of the shoe, if the upper is good we can rebuild it and make it almost like new. Perhaps there is a pair of shoes in your closet right this minute that need attention. Bring them to us and permit us to advise you. They may be saved, and many more weeks of wear put into them at very small expense. Be thrifty—have 'em repaired.

Mexia Shrine Club Plans To Play Santa Claus

Special Train ToCeremonial In Waco On Nov. 22

At a rousing meeting of the Mexia Shrine Club last night which was held in the Masonic Lodge room, two important questions were discussed and disposed of in a satisfactory manner.

The first important question disposed of was that of running a special train to Kurem Temple's ceremonial in Waco on November 22nd. After much discussion pro and con as to the route over which the train should be run, it was agreed that the best interests of the Shrine Club would be served by starting the train at Teague and making the trip via T. & B. V. to Hubbard, thence Cotton Belt Route to Waco. Several Shriners from Teague were in attendance and stated that the Teague delegation were strongly in favor of running the train and would support it with about sixty or more passengers, provided it was decided to start the train at Teague; otherwise they were afraid they would not come to Mexia to board the train; the train service between Teague and Mexia making it impossible to get to and from Mexia and connect with a special operated from Mexia. Noble B. S. Holliman, Superintendent of the H. & T. C. offered to operate a special train via that line to Waco, making the same low rate as the short route offered by the T. & B. V. and Cotton Belt, which was very much appreciated by the Shriners, but it was brought out that in selecting the route the best interests of the Mexia Shrine Club should be taken care of; it being noted that Teague Shriners support the Mexia Shrine Club much better than any adjoining town, also Coolidge, and Hubbard can be reached by the route selected.

Post cards recently circulated by the Secretary in the form of a questionnaire brought the information that the Shrine body in this vicinity would support another special train, and the Secretary has been instructed to circulate tickets for sale at once in order to secure the required guarantee of approximately two hundred fares for the train.

The last special train operated to Waco by the Shriners was run exclusively for Shriners and their ladies; It was unanimously decided by those present last night that every Master Mason and his family be given an opportunity to make the trip on Nov. 22nd; thereby enjoying a days outing with the Shriners in Waco, witnessing all public ceremonies, and partaking of the fun on the trip going and returning. Tickets will be mailed to Shriners and placed on sale at prominent places in the city and all interested parties are urged to reserve their tickets as early as possible, in order that the railroad company may be notified as much in advance as possible, to allow them to arrange equipment for the train.

Another important question coming before the Shrine meeting was that of the Shrine Club assuming the role of Santa Claus on Christmas Day and spreading the broad mantel of charity to those whom circumstances have reduced their finances to the point of preventing Santa Claus from paying them a visit. This question in which much interest was manifested by every Shriner present, was discussed in detail, with the result that the Shrine Club proposed to produce the minstrel show in Groesbeck and possibly in Mexia again, the date to be immediately after returning from Waco on Nov. 22nd, which will be ample time to raise funds to be used for the charity work planned for Christmas day.

It was pointed out that the minstrel show in Mexia, despite the disagreeable weather and muddy condition of the street leading to the High School Auditorium, netted the Shrine Club about $200.00, which will be placed in the charity fund and it is hoped to build this fund up to six or seven hundred dollars by producing the minstrel show two more times; in Groesbeck and possibly Mexia, same to be advertised as the Shrine Charity minstrels and it hoped that the public will respond freely to the cause.

A committee was appointed to gather statistics and report back to the next called meeting of the club; duties of the committee being to secure names and provide a list of the families in the community who are in need of assistance; the committee being charged also with the duty of securing the co-operation of business houses who will furnish clothing and eats to the Shrine Club at the lowest price possible, in order that the money expended may go as far as possible and do the most good.

The committee consisted of the following:

A. H. Berry, chairman.
W. R. Storey
A. R. Etchison
E. L. Crow
J. Neddler

The following were named to work with the Shrine committee: Mrs. Houx and Mrs. Desenberg of the Red Cross; Mr. Lang of the Salvation Army and Kyle Stewart of Cheeves Brothers.

CORSICANA????

"The Mexia Daily News, largest circulation of any newspaper in any town of 10,000 in the Southwest."

The official Salesmanship car in which roed President Lee Pierson and Secretary Dick Wagner was also appropriately bannered as was also the Chamber of Commerce car driven by Secretary Ben Stollenwerck. About a half a dozen ladies were members of the party.

A few stayed over for the program at the Country Club given at night, but most of the party returned later in the afternoon.

At the noon banquet, the Elks club band was called upon "to do their stuff" which they did in pleasing fashion, the crowd of about 300 from all the leading cities of the Nation applauding generously.

Just after the noon program, the delegation gathered on the outside for the official picture of the convention and the Mexia group gathered behind the purple clad Elks formed a striking part of the photograph which will be published in many of the leading journals and newspapers of America.

J. W. Lindsey of Jackson Brothers was an active worker on the automobile committee, as was also E. M. Strange of the Overland and Willys Knight agency. It was due to their co-operation with Salesmanship club officials that the party was as large as it was. Many had signed up stating that they would attend and have a car in line, but at the last moment gave up the trip on account of adverse reports concerning the condition of the roads.

This defeated one purpose of the trip which was to show Mexia business men the importance of urging a campaign to keep the road between here and the world's largest oil field in passable condition.

Mr. Price and Richard Spillane, his co-worker in the field of writing and as gifted in portraying the were speakers at the luncheon.

romance of industry and business, Mr. Price turned from the purveyor ofa dynamic idea in the formal councils of the convention to the role of entertainer in the luncheon forum. He was introduced by Charles H. Mills son of the late Roger Q. Mills, who warmly commended the efforts of Mr. Price at portraying the neglected qualities of romance in the history of Texas. In his brief introductory address Mr. Mills called attention to the position to Texas as the only State of the Union that won its independence by itself and sought membership in the society of the United States as a free and independent Nation.

Spillane Former Texan.

In a brief address Mr. Spillane referred to his own labors in the Texas newspaper field more than a score of years ago and of the immensity of possibility for agriculture and industrial expansion and development in Texas. He seconded Mr. Price's suggestion that the only barrier to Texas' future achievements has been inability to get people to come and see for themselves what is here.

Mr. Price's address was the only formal feature of the morning session.

The afternoon was a lively session devoted to a discussion briefly to the so-called "Neosho plan" of co-operative mercantile advertising and sales promotions through a round-table tilt over the merits of the advertising work. Steadily the exhixit has grown year by year, and this year's collection ranging on three sides of the large auditorium is the largest yet assembled. The thirty or forty exhibits represent the enterprise of local clubs, advertising agencies, printing houses, engravers, artists and out-of-door advertisers.

The advertising displays were exhibited in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, where the afternoon session was held. Harold Knyton of San Antonio conducted the critique of exhibits and it developed into a free for all.

Exposition of the principles of the Neosho plan, named for the Missouri town where it was formally launched by Gurney Lowe, now counsellor of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World and promotion of the organization of such systems was undertaken extemporaneously by Carl Hunt, manager of the organization, because of the delay of Mr. Lowe. Mr. Hunt told briefly of the success of the enterprise in Neosho, where merchants co-operated in the staging of an advertising campaign and the promotion of Tuesday sales days in which different merchants featured different articles. Questions were propounded to Mr. Hunt at the end if the discussion. The plan has been most successful in towns of 5,000 population and less than 12,000, he said, though variations of the plan may be made adaptable to communities both larger and smaller, he agreed.

Advertising Criticised.

The advertising powwow was strictly a session of shop talk. Goading his company along, Mr. Kayton got "hammer and tongs" action out of the critics. Sometimes they found the pieces of advertising on the wall "very, very good," and sometimes they were "no more than horrid," until a spirited defender got the floor.

Others formally on the program with Mr. Kayton were A. H. Caddalder, San Antonio; J. C. Binkley, Sherman; George B. Forristal of Houston, R. C. mont and Percy Montgomery of El Dyer of Dallas, Otto Bruck of Beau-Paso, but there were a score or more who found voice for rapt praise or sharp condemnation during the hour.

Percy Montgomery made a stirring plea to the advertising fraternity to Exhibits of an advertising campaign utilize innate beauty in their work, to popularize San Antonio as a resort were lauded by Mr. Bruck and Mr. Cadwalder explained the success that attended the efforts in the campaign.

Comment was made by Mr. Kayton in opening the session on the progress that has been made in collecting a representative exhibit of men as contenders.

Convention Closes Wednesday.

The convention will be concluded Wednesday afternoon with a tour of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce with R. J. J. Jackson, president, and Oscar C. B. Nau, manager, in charge. The excursion will be made on a special train over the Trinity & Brazos Valley Railroad tracks. A special demonstration of a gusher "going over the top" will be presented the visitors

At a final luncheon Wednesday the Rotary Club will be hosts with John C. Calhoun presiding. JohnE. Dewild of St. Louis will be the speaker.

High School To Hold Patriotic Program Friday

The Mexia High School will observe Armistice Day with a program in keeping with the spirit of the occasion Friday morning at 8:55.

A varied program is being prepared for the occasion and it is certain that the hour will be one that will be a factor in citizenship training in Mexia. Superintendent Charles Puckett and Principal R. M. Andrews of the High School are anxious that the schools of Mexia instill patriotism in the students and they are always eager to hold the ideals of America aloft for the inspiration of the rising generation.

The program is as follows:

Assembly program at the Mexia High School Auditorium Friday morning, October 9th at 8:55 a. m.

America, sung by Assembly.

Reading, Miss Mary Adele Woodard.

Medley of popular war songs sung by Girls Glee Club.

The Etiquette of the flag, W. B. Kendrick, Jr.

Surprise—?

Patriotic song, Girls Glee Club.

Star Spangled Banner, sung by Assembly, led by Girls Glee Club.

STORES TO CLOSE ARMISTICE MONDAY

According to Ben F. Stollenwerck, secretary of the Mexia Chamber of Commerce, many stores here will observe Monday, November 12, as Armistice Day and will be closed all day. The list will appear in Thursday's Mexia Daily News.

Missionary Ladies Of Methodist Church To Observe Week of Prayer With All Day Program Thursday

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church will observe "Week of Prayer" at the church Thursday with a "Spend the Day" party.

The first program begins at 11:00 o'clock and the afternoon program starts at 2:15.

Concerning the subject "Why Appoint a Week of Prayer," the Missionary Voice in a recent issue has the following to say, which is contributed by Mrs. George Peyton of the local society:

This pertinent question comes home to the busy woman—the wife, the mother, the teacher. Why set aside these first days of November, when there are a thousand things to do, and ask 257,000 of these busy home-makers to assemble themselves together one hour a day for three days in the week, or even for one whole day out of the working six? What is the program which calls for this specializing in time, effort and money?

Taking up the items of the program in their order of importance let us each one establish in her own mind that this first week of November, 4-10, in the year 1923, is primarily for specific, definite prayer. It is supposed that our women are women of prayer, that they know the way to the Throne of Grace, that their fellowship with the Master is close and precious, that it is easy to find God and to lay before Him the things we so desire. For ourselves, our families and friends, our Church, our mission fields, and for many things dear to our hearts, we talk with the Father, believing that He hears and answers.

But not many, perhaps, out of these almost three thousand members of the Woman's Missionary Council remember daily, for even three days in any one week, some specific field, or institution or workers. We sum them up together and say, "Lord, you know them and love them, and we trust your love and care." Thus we fail to get ourselves familiar with the conditions under which the various places and department of work are carried on, the names of the workers, the needs and opportunities, and miss the reflex blessing that always comes to the intercessor in personal, definite praper.

Adult auxilaries are asked to pray together this year for the Nashville Bethlehem House Center, and for the Laura Haygood Demonstration School in Soochow, China. This means that we acquaint ourselves with their history, how and why they came into being, what kind of community they serve, why they need enlargement, what will be the results of such enlargement. We will learn the names of the missionaries at work in these fields and will come into closer sympthy and a greater desire to become, ourselves, helpers in their labors. And ever after we will be more a part of the Nashville Bethlehem Center and the Laura Haygood Demonstration School.

McKINNEY SCHOOL OPEN HOUSE TO BE HELD THURSDAY

Invitations have been received by the Lions club of Mexia; Chamber of Commerce officials, Mexia Daily News staff and many other citizens especially inviting them to an open house to be given by the members of 6-B class at the McKinney Street Grammar School Thursday evening at 7:30. A large number of citizens are expected to be present and to see just what Mexia has to offer the rising generation in the way of facilities for their education.

GREENVILLE, Texas, Nov. 7.—Ed Harvey was fatally injured, his son Otis Harvey and Raymond Nash were seriously hurt when the truck in which they were riding was struck by a passenger train near here Tuesday afternoon. They were brought here for treatment.

The men were members of a party from Mena, Arkansas enroute to Phoenix, Arizona.

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 7.—Heavy scrimmage and additional overhead work made up the program for the Sooners today in their last home practice before entraining for the meeting with the Missouri eleven at Columbia Saturday.

Victory Of Ohio Klansmen Indicates Trend of Thought In U. S. To Marked Degree

By The United Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Election results in thirteen states showed that neither the republican nor democratic parties could claim any great reversal from that shown by the last general election.

No accurate appraisal of the nation's trend could be obtained but more encouragement for the democrats who are apparently holding the ground gained in 1922. One notable gain is in Kentucky, where the democrats elected the governor.

Democrats were disappointed in New York, where the republicans captured five assembly seats lost in the last election.

Ku Klux Klan victory in Ohio city elections seemed to point to the entrance of the Klan into state and national politics next year in a marked degree.

The drys won in New Jersey and the wets won in Maryland, where Governor Ritchie, wet sympathizer, was re-elected. However, there was little indication, generally, of a line up on prohibition.

The republican victory in Vermont is impressive enough to show that Coolidge is in no danger of a psychological repudiation which democrats sought to inflict. The republicans elected the senator and congressman. The election showed that next year is anybody's fight and nobody's victory right now.

ELECTION NEWS

INVISIBLE EMPIRE WON IN MANY OHIO CITIES WHERE KLAN ISSUE WAS DOMINANT

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 7.—The Ku Klux Klan made virtually a clean sweep in nearly a score of Ohio cities where it was carried to the polls as a dominant issue in yesterday's city elections.

In Youngstown where the Klan fight was bitterest, the Invisible Empire, scored a clean cut victory in the election of Charles P. Schobel, who was chosen Mayor over the nearest of his five opponents by a plurality of 10,669.

Other cities where the Klan claimed victory are: Newark, Portsmouth, Tiffin, Medina, Elyria, Washington Courthouse, Akron, Marion, East Liverpool, Ashland, Springfield, Magnetic Springs and Crooksville.

In Steubenville, scene of recent Klan controversy, R. B. Passavant, Klan favorite for Mayor, was defeated by Frank H. Hawkins, Republican.

AL SMITH LOSES IN N. Y.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Hopes of Governor Smith to control the next lower House of the Legislature were shattered at yesterday's election.

Practically complete but unofficial returns here early today show the Republicans gained five seats in the Lower House.

The Democrats gained in New York City, winning the sixth and twenty-third districts. They also gained in the first Albany district.

Apparently the Republicans returned Victor Kauffman from New York City.

These gains, however, were offset by Republican gains up-State where the G. O. P. recaptured members from Columbia, Schuyler, Rockland, the second Renssalaer, the first Oneida and the fifth Erie.

REPUBLICAN WINS IN VERMONT

MONTPELIER, Vt., Nov. 7.—Former Congressman Porter R. Dale, Republican, was elected to the United States Senate in a special senatorial election in Vermont yesterday, defeating Park H. Pollard, Democrat, and cousin of President Coolidge.

Returns from 248 cities and towns in the State give Dale 30,620 votes and Pollard 16,631.

In special congressional election to fill the place left vacant when Dale resigned to run for the Senate following the death of Senator William P. Dillingham, Colonel Ernest W. Gibson, Republican, was elected over Burton E. Bailey, Democrat. Returns gave Gibson 17,613 and Bailey 4,172 votes.

NEW JERSEYL DRY REPUBLICANS WIN.

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 7.—Republican legislative candidates of Camden county, running on a "dry" platform were elected over candidates of the Non-Partisan, or fusion party, supporters of the wet cause, by a plurality of about 2,000 in yesterday's election, according to early returns today.

DEPUBLICANS WIN IN PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 7.—W. Freeland Kendrick, old guard Republican today is Mayor-elect of Philadelphia, having defeated A. Raymond Raff, his Democratic opponent by a plurality of approximately 210,000 in Tuesday's elections. All other Republican candidates for judicial and municipal offices were successful in the election.

DISORDERLY ELECTIONS IN PENNSYLVANIA

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 7.—Nineteen ballot boxes were impounded during the night, following what was declared the "most disorderly election in years."

Charges of fraud, complaint of election officers and appeals of help to quell disorders poured into the sheriff's office over telephones from early yesterday until early today.

Earl returns indicate that the Republicans county ticket has been elected except in a few offices. The city election was still in doubt with the two tickets running neck-and-neck.

TAMMANY DEMOCRATS WIN IN NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Democratic judiciary candidates were elected by a plurality of from 130,000 to 140,000 by Tammany and the Democratic organizations in the other counties of New York City, it was indicated today.

Democratic newspapers conceded the Republican majority in the State Assembly would be 22.

In the city the proposal to increase salaries of firemen and police carried by a safe margin.

The water power project was defeated and the soldiers' bonus won.

DEMOCRATS WIN KENTUCKY GOVERNORSHIP.

COVINGTON, Ky., Nov. 7.—Democracy returned to the saddle in Kentucky after four years of Republican government in the Blue Grass State, when W. J. Fields of Olive Hill was elected Governor over Charles I. Dawson of Pineville.

The Democratic nominee won by 45,000 plurality, his supporters estimated. Dawson conceded defeat early today.

H. H. Denhart, Democratic nominee for lieutenant-governor, ran far behind his ticket. He was scratched heavily in Northen Kentucky, where his activities in command of a national guard unit sent to suppress strike disorders were resented. Whether his opponent, Ellerbe W. Carter, Republican, nosed him out still was uncertain today.

At Morningside Hospital She Refuses To Tell Their Names

TULSA, Okla. Nov. 7.—Mrs. Dorothy Smith, 35, was attacked by two men in his apartment last night, who cut off her hair and lashed her with a knife across her arm, limbs and back, she told authorities today.

At Morningside Hospital, Mrs. Smith refused to reveal the identity of the two men, who, after attacking her, threw her in her bath tub. Officers found her hair in the tub, but could find none of her clothing in her apartment.

CASON TO BECOME MEMBER OF J. I. RIDDLE AND COMPANY; RESIGNS FROM TELEPHONE CO.

According to an announcement made this morning Jere Cason has resigned his position as manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company at Mexia, Teague, Wortham and Thornton and will hereafter be identified with the J. I. Riddle Furniture Company, in which he has secured an interest.

Mr. Cason states that as soon as he can be relieved in his present duties, he will assume his new ones with the Riddle Furniture houses here.

Mr. Riddle, in speaking of the new transaction stated that it was with much pleasure that he announced the addition of Mr. Cason to the old established firm. Mr. Cason has been in Mexia almost a year, in his present capacity and all during this period has identified himself with the Lions club, Salesmanship club and other civic organizations which work for Greater Mexia. He is an enthusiastic young business man and under his efficient management, the local telephone company has been afforded a high class service and plans for extensions and expansions are already well under way here.

Mr. Cason will have charge of the advertising for the firm and will be on the outside considerably, spreading the gospel of J. I. Riddle and Mexia throughout the widening trade territory.

It is likely that his new relations will be assumed about the twentieth of November.

French To Submit Note To British On Payment Plan

By JOHN DE GANDT,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Nov. 7.—Premier Poincare has sent a note to England saying French experts are drafting a program for the proposed conference to discuss German's capacity to pay reparations, it was reported in well informed circles today.

The French program will be submitted to England for approval before being sent to Washington as an invitation for the United States to participate in the conference, according to the report.

It was reported today that Premier Poincare's fresh instructions to Ambassador Jusserand in Washington explain that the proposed conference of experts may examine the questions of the Ruhr and German's resources, but can not pass judgement on French action in occupying the additional German territory.

France also will refuse to allow discussion of the contracts recently made between herself and German interests and will not consider discussion of Germany's capacity to pay until a time when she feels it is possible to evaluate this capacity with a fair degree of accuracy.

General Maginot, minister of war, departed today for Dusseldorf presumably in connection with Poincare's new demand that Germany permit the interallied military control commission to resume their work including determination of whether or not Germany has more than the 100,000 armed men allowed by treaty of Versailles.

Ouster Suit Is Much Befogged

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 7.—With consideration of J. C. Walton's petition for Federal interference in the muddled State political situation scheduled for 1 o'clock today before Federal Judge John Cotterall at Lawton and his reply to the House charges before the impeachment court due at 1:30 o'clock, the status of the State's noted ouster suit was befogged today.

Attorney General George Short and four members of the House, Jess Pullen, C. W. Miller, T. H. Wren and Dave Stovall, were to appear in Federal court at Lawton to fight Walton's petition for a resrtaining order halting his trial for impeachment.

The Governor's attempt to throw the case into the Federal court will have no delaying effect upon the start of the trial, the House board of managers stated here today.

"We will abide by any decision of the Federal court but Governor Walton's trial preliminaries will open at the scheduled time today," W. E. Disney, House prosecution leader declared.

Walton's petition for Federal interference was field in Federal court at noon yesterday, but Judge Cotterall withheld action upon the ground that defendants in the action had not been notified of the action.

Rotary Club To Hear S. P. Man Thursday

T. P. Huckingson is Rotary leader for Thursday. The luncheon is to be held at the Majestic dining room on that occasion and an excellent program is a certainty, according to Secretary Ben F. Stollenwerck.

One of the features Thursday will be Traffic Manager of the Southern Pacific an address by S. G. Reid, Assistant to the Railway Company, of Houston.

According to the records of the Mexia Rotary club, the following members are listed 100 per cent in their attendance: Albert Berry, E. L. Crow, Hardie Eubanks, Tom Nolan, Ben F. Stollenwerck, Dick Wagner, J. G. McInsosch, C. G. Puckett and Ernest Strange.

The membership of the club is now 40, and the largest attendance in October was on the 18th, when 35 were present.

KLANSMEN GIVE UP BUT ARE RELEASED AT ONCE

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 7.—Three officials of the Klan surrendered on peace warrants issued as a result of the murder of W. S. Coburn by Phillip Fox, and demanded an immediate hearing. The warrants were sworn to by Dr. Fred B. Johnston, who said Fox threatened his life. Dr. H. W. Evans, also named in the warrants, is out of the city. Fox is to be examined by an alienist. He refuses to make a statement.

LATER FLASH

The peace warrants were dismissed for want of prosecution. Johnston went to Birmingham after being advised to stay within the court's jurisdiction.

Junk Law Not Constitutional, Says High Court

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 7.—The junk law, providing that junk dealers secure affidavits from persons selling them commodities, was held unconstitutional by the Court of Criminal Appeals because it violates the State and Federal constitutions and restrains trade and in discriminatory. It reversed the fine of A. Stroll of Falls county, a dealer charged with its violation.

Corsicana Welcomes Mexia Delegation To Convention

Headed by the Mexia Elks band about 40 Mexia citizens paraded the streets of Corsicana Tuesday and then drove to the Corsicana Y. M. C. A. where a banquet was provided by the Lions club on behalf of the Tenth District Association of Advertisers. The 10th district is comprised of four states of the Southwest and the advertising brains of these states, Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and New Mexico were assembled at the tables. The Mexia delegation was met in the outskirts of the city by Boyce Martin of the Corsicana Sun and upon arrival in the business district, the Corsicana Sun band led the delegation through the streets. The Elks club did in their royal purple uniforms formed an attraction which caused the throngs on the crowded streets to pause and have a happy thought for Mexia.

All Mexiaites in Corsicana wore badges: "Mexia, the Hub of the World's Greatest Oil Field."

The Mexia automobiles left here about ten o'clock and reached Corsicana about noon. Several of the autos carried large banners. Boyd and Forrest Realty Company carried a large banner on the back of their car bearing the words "Watch Mexia Grow." The Studebaker agency here contributed two cars, one of which driven by Charles Schmit bearing the slogan, "Mexia, the Hub of the World's Greatest Oil Field." The Mexia Daily News car carried a sign which read:

Mexia Pastors Organize Ministerial Association

The active ministers of Mexia met at the home of Rev. W. B. Andrews last Monday and organized the Ministerial Association of Mexia. Rev. W. B. Andrews was elected chairman, Rev. G. T. Reaves, secretary and Rev. Joe Jeffers treasurer. After the ministers had related some of their experiences in their chosen profession in ministering to the needs of others, both in spiritual and temporal way, they outlined their plans for the first union service for the churches of Mexia. This service will be on Thanksgiving, (Nov. 29th) and as so many people wish to go hunting and visiting on that day the ministers thought it best for all concerned to have the Thanksgiving service at 7:30 in the evening. The joys and the worries of the big dinners will be over and the people can enjoy the service better in the evening. Rev. Joe Jeffers will be in charge of the music, Rev. W. B. Andrews will have charge of the service, and Rev. G. T. Reaves will deliver the sermon. The service will be held in the Baptist church. We expect to make this one of the best Thanksgiving services ever held in Mexia, one to be enjoyed and remembered; so please keep it in mind, and plan the affairs of the day so you can be there, for every American citizen should consider it a pleasure and also a duty to attend Thanksgiving services, says Rev. G. T. Reaves, in speaking of the program.

Entered as second-class matter. February 26, 1919, at the Postoffice at Mexia, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879.

WAKE UP, MERCHANTS

It was regretable Tuesday that so few of the big business men of Mexia took advantage of the opportunity to go to Corsicana with the Mexia delegation, hear some of the world's greatest ad men on their own subjects and to place Mexia before the entire country.

The Mexia party was small in comparison with what it should have been. In fact had it not been for the Elks band, that superb musical organization of loyal young citizens, the trip would have been a failure in so far as attendance was concerned.

The address of Theo H. Price, Editor of Commerce and Finance, of New York City, at the luncheon hour and the explanation of the Neosha plan in the afternoon were features that brought many a business man thousands of miles to hear. Yet, many Mexia business men, within a two hours ride of the convention, held back, thinking that it was but a work of boys and youthful citizens to whoop 'em up for Mexia at Corsicana.

Mexia business men must realize that Mexia is not now "as she used to be" "in the good old days." Mexia is a growing city, situated in the center of a territory with live competitors elsewhere. Mexia's business men must intelligently equip themselves with all the knowledge possible for them to gain in order to keep abreast of the times and in order to know just as much of a subject as the other fellow. In this day and time, the conqueror is the man who gives his foe credit for being just as strong and just as intelligent and just as well equipped as he is himself. He wins then because he has overestimated his competitor rather than underestimated him. This is likewise true in business.

To be a greater Mexia, Mexia merchants must abandon their small town ways and show their alertness in taking advantage of every opportunity to "study" their own business and to help spread the gospel of Mexia whenever there is an opportunity.

This same lack of foresight was responsible for the Trade Tour over Mexia territory by Mexia business men being a "fluke" and abandoned.

Wake up, merchants!

Don't be provincial!

America is not bordered by the city limits of Mexia, nor is Mexia's trade territory limited to the rural routes out of this city.

NEW INVENTIONS

A scientist in the West claims to have made progress in production and control of lighting, with devastating possibilities. A scientist in the East reports progress in bottling sunshine. These notes may be of interest to students of advancing science, but the layman acquainted with bootleg booze will incline to opinion that the makers of outlawed liquor have beaten both to it.

They have been producing lightning, in liquid form, since the adoption of the eighteenth amendment and have used that product with devastating effect. Bottled moonshine is even more deadly than imprisoned sunshine. If the country seeks a terrible weapon to hurl at the enemy, let it choose bootleg booze.

Every department in Washington has gone on record as needing more money, a condition which unfortunately is shared by the gentleman who keeps all of them running.

Say, you fellow, you who are always growling about times being hard. How would you like to swap places with our friend the German, with a pocket full of marks that won't buy a glass of beer?—Terrell Transcript.

Humph! That's not hard luck at all. Just think of all of us fellows who have pockets full of dollars (real money) that won't buy a gass of beer.

Reduced to its final analysis France's attitude appears to be this: The United States should be willing to pay the entire expense of the war in return for the privilege, none the less honor, of having been permitted to go to the rescue of France and save it from destruction at the hands of the German horde. The idea of France being under the least obligation to the United States is too preposterous to be considered.—Denison Herald.

And that's where the flapper and the jellybean evoluted from.

Now comes a reader telling us how to treat our cider and keep it from cutting up. We won't do it. We accord to our cider all the privileges due a free moral agent. So long as it remains sweet, we'll let it pursue its way in peace. If it becomes unruly, we'll be patient but if it becomes hardened and sinful, we'll proceed against it in wrath and consume it.—Geo. Bailey in Houston Post.

Commander Alvin Owsely of American Legion fame, threatens to make the race for governor next year, and you may depend upon it dear reader, that if this brilliant young man does get into the race he will be one of the real contenders for the office.—Kosse Cyclone.

You bet he will. That young man has just begun his useful career. Wherever he might cast his political hat it is going to hold its place in the race, and the other runners are going to know that they had a fight.

Senator Oscar Underwood has been feeling around in Texas the last few days, and it is said that the Kentucky gentleman is well pleased with what he felt. You understand, Oscar is being boosted for the democratic presidential nomination, and he is taking kindly to the boosting. As the season is open, other gentlemen seeking the nomination will be about in the state; so, don't be too hasty in making selections.—Wise County Messenger.

Lots of time yet to get in the band wagon. The campaign is young and Texas may have her favorite son, Pat Neff, in the running before many more moons. Just keep cool and look the field over before you jump at a selection.

Come to Fort Worth and help celebrate the founding of the Texas city that still breathes the Old Pioneer Spirit, the spirit of fellowship and militant Americanism. It was seventy-five years ago that a handful of pioneers banded themselves together on the banks of the Trinity river where now stands the Tarrant County Court House and builded a fortress of oaken logs and set up for themselves a community that has since grown into the 43rd city of the Nation. All railroads have ordered reduced rates so that a visit to Fort Worth can be made at the least possible expense. The celebration is a combination of the 75th and 50th birthdays of what is now Fort Worth. It was 50 years ago that the city was incorporated.

THE ROMANCE OF TANGLEFOOT

By E. H. WOLFF

The loose ends of this story were first woven in Germany many years ago but the culmination as I knew it did not happen until nearly a century later in one of the large hop fields of California along about the year 1914. It represents in a small way the cunning of one man pitted against that of a corporation fully as large as any Texas Oil Trust and in which the lone man played a lone hand, won out and left the corporation standing with its mouth open and wondering just how it happened.

In the grim backwoods of Germany a small family struggled along in the usual German peasant style—love the Emperor, without asking why, send your sons to the Army, pay your honest debts, and say nothing. This particular method of living did not appeal to the oldest son; he packed his bag and started for the city; he entered college, worked for his board and room and tuition. In due time he walked down the college stairs for the time, his sheepskin under his arm, nothing in his jeans and some big ideas of America in his head.

While in college he specialized in Chemistry, becoming rich in knowledge and poor in the long green. But he found something; he discovered that certain chemicals, powders, liquids and common sense when mixed together in a certain precise manner, from which there must not be the slightest hair breadth deviation, would produce a substance that would not dry but remain sticky; he may have discovered it accidentally; we do not know; but anyway, he had the world with a strangle hold and half-nelson and never knew it; he had the old world by the tail with a down-hill pull and was not wise; he was born too soon but this was not his fault. His discovery gave to the world, to you and I, to aunt Mary and uncle Johon a substance known as Tanglefoot; not the stuff that comes in quart bottles with a pretty lable but the kind that comes on sheets of yellow paper commonly known as fly paper. So valuable did this product become that there is but one company in the world that has the patent-right to produce it; it is known as the O. & W. Thum Company of Grand Rapids Michigan. If the reader happens to have some sheets of Tanglefoot handy and looks at the trade mark on the margin he will see the name of Thum.

This young discoverer, with his Tanglefoot formula in his jeans, sailed with high hopes, good faith and Christian fortitude, in the steerage for America and was sterlized, deloused, and fumigated at Ellis Island with due and proper ceremony. Months later he found himself in the wilds of Western Canada with a heavy suit case and afflicted with a fight stomach; he was down and out—out of money and out of luck. Fortune took a turn and he chanced to meet a man to whom he sold the child of his brain, Tanglefoot, for the sum of one dollar. That one dollar down through the years to the present time has made untold millions of dollars to the man who bought it—one of the Thum brothers but the man who discovered it, took his dollar, spent it for a meal and that is the end of him, so far as this tale is concerned.

Now comes the second part of the story. Long before Mr. Volstead came into prominence, we had in this country a beverage known as beer but since the advent of brother Volstead we no longer have beer but use near-beer and that is as near as you get it. Beer in the olden days was made from a small berry knows as hops. Hops grow but in few parts of the world; in this country it grows mostly in California in the Sacramento Valley and Northwest Canada and the hop industry in those days represented to California what cotton does to the South today. With the coming of cotton there also came a little mischievous bug called the boll weevil; with the hops came a similar bug which did as much damage to the hops as the weevil did to cotton. This same bug became the center of interest among the hop growers of California in a mad effort to stamp it out; all manner of poisons, sprayings, dustings and cussings were resorted to but the little bug had a season ticket and refused to die either a natural or unnatural death.

Some one suggested that Tanglefoot would be the proper caper and would catch the festive bug but it only came on fly paper; they wanted it in barrels to apply with a fire hose, concrete mixer, and a steam shovel with steam up. No fly paper would not do. Somebody further suggested hiring a chemist to analyze the stuff, learn the process of making Tanglefoot and produce it in their own plant. A chemist was hired, installed in a small laboratory equipped with a microscope, scales, pots, pans, kettles, tubes, burners and many other incidentals and detirmentals. The chemist set to work to produce his first batch of Tanglefoot. It did precisely and exactly what it should not have done—it worked backwards perfectly—it hardened and became as a stone and likewise caught no flies, moss, bugs nor insects. The next mixture was produced but it hardened in winter until one could see his relfection in its hard glossy surface and this sad when the elusive Tanglefoot acted like state of affairs lasted until summer a piece of ice on a hot stove, in other words it melted and ran like the devil from holy water. The weeks passed into months but the Tanglefoot still refused to tangle anything. Flies, bugs and insects walked across its glossy surface, laughed, tangoed, turkeytrotted and shimmied about it without fear. Tangle foot was all wrong—the color was wrong—the smell was missing and the stick qualities fell by the way-side but the chemist was a wise old bird and knew that if he persisted he would eventually get a toe-hold and bring home the bacon.

For two years the chemist wrestled with his problem; he analyzed it, boiled, cooked, fried, stewed and tasted it; did everything but ate it—it was too hard to eat. He used all manner of technical, non-technical, essential and non-essential words in discussing Tanglefoot but still it acted like an unruly step-child with the Deacon for dinner. The corporation that hired him at a good salary including room and board were beginning to get hot under the collar at the non- appearance of Tanglefoot. Money was fast going out of the kittie with no returns in sight but mis-behaved Tanglefoot. Our office had long since lost the appearance of being a respectable place in which we earned our daily bread in the sweat of our brow and shiny trousers; it took on the aspect of a battlefield after a German retreat. Our chairs desks, window seats and every available spot was filled high with metal boxes of alleged tanglefoot that refused to soften in winter or remain as it should in summer and as a joke, it long since lost its jokeability and became a nuisance worse than a pest house inside the city limits We heard nothing from the chemist but Tanglefoot. He was getting buggy himself puttering all day and half the night over his pots, pans, kettles and burners until he reminded one of a witch fortune teller stirring her iron pots in the dark of the moon.

One day—one of those balmy days of late summer, the little laboratory door was locked; no one suspected any thing wrong but we all secretly hoped that the chemist had chucked his job and fled in shame and disgrace. But no such luck was ours. In the course of a few days a letter came to the president of the corporation, reading something like this:

"Gentlemen: I wish to inform you that I have discovered the process of producing Tanglefoot and will sell you the exact formula for fifty thousand dollars."

Thus ends the tale of the Tanglefoot; it proved the cunning of one man against a corporation; he was hired to analyze a product and to discover the secret of making it and after many months of day and night labor he was successful and offered to sell his employers the identical secret they hired him to find.

A REAL MAN.

Lynch Davidson was introduced to the Rotarians of Waco as "the next governor of Texas." Well, fellow-citizens, we could go further and fare worse. Those of you who have been shouting "A business man for governor," have your opportunity in Lynch Davidson. He took the state's railroad and converted it from a liability into an asset. He has offered what seems to be the best solution of the penitentiary problem, to-wit: Put the men to work on the highways.—Waco Times-Herald.

Davidson has made good as a business man and a statesman, too. He made the state railroad, running from Rusk, a place where former statesmen dreamed about iron works and smelters and another Pittsburgh. A penitentiary was located there and the convicts were to manufacture stoves, gas pipe, wagon parts and other articles, and all to be hauled out on the state railroad. The road proved to be a losing deal until Davidson was given charge to put new life into it. He, like other governors, has a problem in the penitentiary system.—Sherman Chronicle.

Lynch Davidson is a real man in every sense of the word. He is a self-made man and neither he nor his friends have ever had occasion to be ashamed of the job. Lynch Davidson regards the state government as an immense business institution to be directed and operated for the benefit of the citizens who are stockholders in the corporation. The problems with which the governor has to deal relate to business management. And just as he has successfully managed and increased his private enterprises so will he overcome the difficulties that for years have prevented payment of dividends in the form of better government at less cost to the taxpayers.—Denison Herald.

How to tell for sure
—what oil your car needs

No. 5 in the series

Perhaps you own
a Chevrolet

(Superior or 490)

If you don't own a Chevrolet, cut this out and hand it to a friend who does

Your Chevrolet engine is of valve-in-head construction and designed for high compression pressures of approximately 87 pounds.

The lubricating system is of the splash circulating type. The gear type oil pump is in an exposed position directly in back of the radiator, and is considerably above the level of the oil in the reservoir. There are long lengths of exposed oil piping on both the suction and discharge sides of the pump.

All engine parts except the centre crank-shaft bearing are lubricated by an oil mist caused by the dipping of the connecting rod splashers in the oil troughs provided under each cylinder. Oil is forced under pressure to the centre crank-shaft bearing.

Carbon deposits in this engine, because of the high compression pressures and combustion chamber construction, are particularly objectionable. Correct lubrication is essential to the maintenance of high efficiency. Gargoyle Mobiloil Arctic will leave a minimum of carbon deposits, and is of the correct body and character to provide adequate engine lubrication under all operating conditions.

The use of Gargoyle Mobiloil Arctic both summer and winter will assure correct engine lubrication and lead to the satisfactory performance you have a right to expect of your Chevrolet.

next friday, we will tell you about the Correct Lubrication of another car. It may be yours. Watch for it.

JACK MULHALL IN "FORGOTTEN LAW"

Jack Mulhall, one of filmdom's most popular leading men, plays an important role in Metro's "The Forgotten Law," at the Grand Theatre, produced under the personal supervision of Max Graf.

The part of Victor Jarnette, an impulsive young husband who invokes an ancient law to will his child away from the custody of its mother, gives Mr. Mulhall an opportunity to display his screen versatility by portraying the character in its shifting phases of cruelty, weakness and contrition.

Mr. Mulhall's previous Metro appearances have been in "Should a Woman Tell?" the all-star melodrama "The Hope," and the "The Offshore Pirate." His first dramatic activities were as member of a dramatic club at Columbia University. Upon graduation he was offered an engagement with a stock company in New York.

In the following two years Mr. Mulhall played the juvenile lead in over a hundred different plays. Then he went into vaudeville, in support of James K. Hackett. At the end of the season he entered motion pictures, playing leads with Biograph for four years. He scored a success in all the parts he portrayed for Metro.

In "The Forgotten Law," Mr. Mulhall is associated with other distinguished players, including Milton Sills and Cleo Ridgley. The photoplay is based upon Caroline Abbott Stanley's famous novel, "A Modern Madonna," which depicts how obsolete laws may be invoked to satisfy a grudge and many persons be made unhappy. The law in question was one which actually existed in Washington, D. C., but was wiped out of existence due to the tremendous appeal of Mrs. Stanley's story. Still, there are many obsolete old laws remaining on the statute books and "The Forgotten Law," aside from its dramatic potency as a story, will serve to bring public attention to their superannuated existence.

COBB BELONGS ON HONOR ROLL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—As a matter of fairness, in addition to the motive of making it historically accurate, baseball heads should not start with the year 1922 in memorializing the outstanding heroes of baseball.

The American League is about to erect a monument to the national game in the national park at Washington. This monument will display prominently a tablet upon which is to be inscribed the star players of the league.

The first name on the monument will be that of George Sisler, the great first baseman of the St. Louis Browns who was voted the most valuable player of the American League for the 1922 season.

Below the name of the Brown star will appear that of Babe Ruth, the great Yankee outfielder, who received the highest possible vote as 1923's most valuable player.

There is no reason why the names of those two great players should not appear on a monument which is designed to hand down to posterity the record and fame of the game's outstanding stars.

Sisler, beyond doubt is, or has been, one of baseball's greatest players; and Ruth, if not the greatest of them all, surely has been the most spectacular.

However, there are reasons too obvious to mention and too numerous to recount why the list should not start with the star of 1922.

If the United States government should decide to erect a national monument as a memorial to its great war leaders, it most certainly would not start with General Pershing. It would not head the list of foremost statesmen with the outstanding national figure of 1922. It would not pass by the name of Lincoln simply because the appropriation for the monument and the motive which inspired it came after his day.

The American League monument never will live up to the purpose for which it was designed if its tablet does not bear the name of Ty Cobb.

Memory and the record books are not necessary to recall the deeds of the great Cobb, whose record over a long stretch of years is the greatest in baseball.

Technically, the American League board of directors might feel that it has not the province to dig into the past and pull out dusty names for embellishment, but it does not have to go down deep in the archives for proof of Cobb's right to a ranking with the greatest of all stars.

It is safe to assert that if the question of Cobb's right to a place on the tablet would be put to a vote of every baseball writer in the country, Cobb's name would get on the tablet without a negative ballot.

Startling Statement If Foung to Be True

DALLAS, exas, Nov. 7.—Here's some real news!

Five breweries are operating in Texas and the beer turned out has a five percent kick. Some of the products they turn out is said to be even better than that of pre-Voltead days.

Allen Bailey, federal pro agent, is authority for the above dry statement.

"The breweries are located at San Antonio, Galveston, Austin, Dallas, and New Braunfels. The beer they manufacture has all the earmarks of the real stuff—until the kick is removed.

That's all Bailey would tell.

RODNEY TIDWELL CANDICATE FOR KAREM RING

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Mexia Shrine Club last night, which met for the purpose of making plans for the special train to be operated to Waco for Karems big fall cemeronial; Rodnew Tidwell, a novice for the big affair was elected a candidate for Karems big diamond ring, which will be given to the most popular candidate in attendance on the big day.

Much enthusiasm was displayed and the Shrine Club pledged their 100 per cent support for their favorite and Noble Upshaw arose amid cheers of the crowd and announced that Teague would not offer a candidate this year, but would support Mexia's own choice.

Novice Tidwell is busy today getting his campaign managers together and will have something to say to the public within the next few days regarding his race for the ring, stating his platform and other particulars.

Mexia divided honors with Bryan at the May ceremonial with their popular candidate Noble Wyatt Hayter, who brough home the bacon for the Mexia Shrine Club.

The club now bids fair to prosper through the coming months; there being several candidates from Mexia, Teague, Coolidge, Wortham and other nearby towns who will make the pilgrimage to Waco on Nov. 22nd.

People Who Were Pimply Faced

Are so happy about their experience with the wonderful Black and White Ointment which gets rid of all skin worries, that they would like to tell those who are still troubled with such things as blotches, pimples, bumps, rash, eczema, "breaking out," etc., how foolish they are to keep on going around looking like they had lost all their interest in life.

It is simply a question of knowing what it takes to clear out these diseases of the skin, and the makers of Black and White Ointment seem to have just what the skin needs to get rid of them quickly. The fact that nearly two million packages of it are sold every year proves how successful it is.

Black and White Ointment is economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size. All dealers have it.—(Adv.)

tough luck when they struck the Corsicana Tigers Monday. Varnell carried the ball over the goal line for Corsicana four minutes before the game ended, making the only touchdown of the game. Dillon kicked goal for an extra point, the final score being 7 to 0 in favor of the Tigers. The punting of Kendrick for Mexia and Dillon for Corsicana were the features of the game.

"Bo" McMillan the wonder football player from Centre has proven that he can coach just about as well as he can play, and that is going some. He leads his Centenary squad to Boston next Saturday where they will show the Boston College a few things on the gridiron.

Georgia Tech invades the east Saturday and tackle Penn State at State College, Pa. Alabama held them to a scoreless tie last Saturday. It does not look like the same Georgia Tech of the Flowers and Barron days but we know that they always make a good showing no matter what the odds.

Waco will be the scene of another conference battle next Saturday, November the 10th. If a miracle does not happen one of the three remaining teams will be eliminated. Texas will invade the Bears' den much the favorite, but then what is dope?

S. M. U. faces Arkansas at Dallas Saturday, the Razorbacks have already been defeated by both Baylor and Oklahoma A. & M. The Mustangs are going to be hard to shake when the conference honors are passed around.

Break A Chest Cold With Heat Of Red Peppers

Ease your tight, aching chest. Stop the pain. Break up the congestion. Feel a bad cold loosen up in just a short time.

"Red Pepper Rub" is the cold remedy that brings quickest relief. It cannot hurt you and it certainly seems to end the tightness and drive the congestion and soreness right out.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers, and when heat penetrates right down into colds, congestion, aching muscles and sore, stiff joints relief comes at once.

The moment you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes the congested spot is warmed through and through. When you are suffering from a cold, rheumatism, bachache, stiff neck or sore muscles, just get a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, at any drug store. You will have the quickest relief known. Always say "Rowles."—(Adv.)

SURE IT DOES GOOD

Thedford's Black-Draught Liver Medicine (Vegetable) Praised by the Head of a Louisiana Family.

Lake Charles, La.—"I don't know what we would have done had we not had Black-Draught. It sure is one of the best medicines made, and am sure the best liver medicine," said Mr. Henry Garrett, of this city.

"My whole family uses it," continued Mr. Garrett. "My wife says she believes she kept off the 'flu' by taking doses of Black-Draught regularly.

"I, myself, use Black-Draught for indigestion, and it is fine.

"We used pills and tablets and other laxatives, but they never seemed to do us good, but the Black-Draught sure has, and it has come to our house to stay. We give it to our daughter for headache and torpid liver.

"I am glad to recommend anything Black-Draught has.

"My present health is good. Have two boxes of Black-Draught in the house now."

If your liver gets out of fix, take Black-Draught. It will help to drive the bile poisons and other unhealthful matters out of your system.

Muscle and Control . Make Every Goal

ENERGY, strong muscles and steady nerves not only win the goals in football but all the other goals in life. And children have an excellent start toward making these goals when the foods they are served contain the elements which build and store up bodily energy and strong health.

The food element, Dextrose, which your doctor can tell you gives vigor and stamina to blood cells and tissue, is of utmost importance to growing children. And because Karo—either Blue Label or Red Label—contains such a large percentage of Dextrose, it is a most valuable food for them. They like the delicious tempting flavor, too.

Get this Beautiful Aluminum Syrup Pitcher
Worth $1.00 for 40c
and 5 Karo Labels

Buy 5 cans of Karo from your grocer, send labels to address below with 40c and you will receive the Syrup Pitcher by parcel post.

MEXIA, A CITY OF HOMES

We like to have people speak of Mexia as a city of homes. Surely no higher tribute can be paid any town. Every man who is proud of his American citizenship should bend every energy, practice every economy, make every sacrifice to obtain a home for his family, for truly home is God's gift to man.

But there are people who have just started to save, couples young and only beginning the process of economy that makes toward home building. They cannot build themselves homes yet; they must rent them from those of us who have had a longer period of time for the accumulation for the wherewithal to build homes. And the sort of place we rent them will determine in a large measure whether or not they build that home in Mexia.

Many of these people,—a large percent of them, are with corporations located here; people sent here from their homes in other cities. They are people who enjoy the comforts of a home, who look upon the place where their dear ones live with them as their "castle," a refuge from the cares and worries of daily life. They are with us months, often years, and some even always, depending on living conditions as they find them. Many of these strangers within our gates are active and intelligent members of our churches, our library, and take an interest in every good movement; citizens who will help Mexia grow and of whom Mexia may be justly proud. They are not all like that, but many of them are, and it is for them we speak.

And what are we giving them to live in, these neighbors of ours who would rent homes of us until they can own their own? Have you seen the places?—the cubby holes in which one eats, sleeps and lives; the hideous furnishings, the myraid of inconveniences, the ridiculously few conveniences? Have you heard the exorbitant prices for these places, prices for which one may rent the most efficient small apartment in cities much larger than Mexia? Have you any idea how many young couples are hunting for really desirable places, places where they can enjoy their housekeeping and each other, places they can call home without gulping? Have you seen their disappointment and watched their dislike for their surroundings grow and grow until they seize the first opportunity of getting out of Mexia? Do they tell it abroad that Mexia is a city of homes?

Why has Mexia so few desirable modern apartments? Our big business men have the money and are investing it in some way every day. There could not be a better, surer investment than in building a really modern apartment, a duplex cottage well built and thoroughly up to date in plan and equipment. Using the figures and computations given us by a prominent lumber man of Mexia we find that an apartment of this kind, rented at a much lower rate than those to be had now, would pay taxes and better than ten percent on the investment. The demand for such an apartment would keep it filled and maintaining a long waiting list. Were that apartment ready tomorrow there are half a dozen couples who would scramble for it, couples you know personally. They would furnish that apartment from our furniture, hardware and dry goods stores, supply their tables from our groceries, markets, dairys; make stanch believers in Mexia as a city of homes.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Little Wilmer Loofboorow entertained her friends with a birthday party Saturday, September 27.

Cut flowers and Hallowe'en decorations were used. Miss Ilene Westmorland gave a reading, "The Birth of Christ." Music by Mrs. Billie Hudgins. Devil's food cake and hot chocolate were served. Many games were played and snap shots were taken. At the conclusion of the party they were lined up by Mrs. Jno. Morris and marched into the dining room. The table was decorated with magnolia blossoms. An angle food cake with 10 lighted candles and ice cream was served. Wilmer Loofboorow found the dime and Ralph Hudgins the button. The guests were:

Roy Westmorland
Luicle McMullins
Meb Barns
Mary Jurasek
Ralph Hudgins
Mildred Cross
Billie Bearurs
Mary Louise Smiley
Hazel Cross
Margery Maddock
Orlean Westmorland
Minnie Lou Matthews
Wilmer Loofboorow

Those who helped entertain were: Mrs. Billie Hudgins, Mrs. Jno. Morris and Mrs. Loofborow.—A Guest.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mrs. Jno. Morris gave her husband a surprise birthday dinner on October 28th, at 8 p. m. A two course luncheon was served to a few of their friends. The first course consisted of fried chicken, cream gravy, noodles, creamed potatoes, tomatoes, celery, coffee and wish cake. The second course consisted of a birthday cake with 36 lighted candles, peaches and whipped cream. The dining room was beautifully decorated with American Beauty roses and ferns. All reported a nice time.—A Guest.

Demand For Fords On The Increase

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 7.—Under the constantly growing demand for Ford products, domestic assembly plants of the Ford Motor Company, working at capacity in order to meet these increasing requirements, established a new production record for the week ending Tuesday, October 30th, the Ford News announces.

Daily output during the six day period averaged in excess of 7,000 and brought a total of 42,271 cars and trucks for the week, exceeding by 502 the previous high mark set up during the week ending September 25th. The lowest day's production of the last week was 6,890 and the highest 7,123.

The present record-breaking production of the Ford Motor Company is significant, continuing as it does thru this period of the year when winter months are at hand and when car deliveries as a rule begin to show decline. It reflects a generally prosperous condition in the country in which Ford products seem to be enjoying a large share.

The Fordson plant turned out 1,836 tractors during the week.

At the Lincoln division of the company production moved up to a new record for the week ending Tuesday with an output of 223 cars, six more than the previous week with its record of 217.

GAS IS NOW USED INSTEAD OF ICE IN REFRIGERATORS

ATLANTIC CITY, Nov. 7.—Refrigeration produced by the intense heat of a gas flame will soon replace ice-cooled refrigerators, was the prediction made today by H. De Witt Valentine of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company, of Chicago, at the convention of the American Gas Association.

According to Mr. Valentine the new form of refrigeration produced by a gas flame gives a uniform temperature approximately ten degrees below that obtained with ice.

"In the apartment building," Mr. Valentine said, "the gas-fired ice unit is placed in the basement and is connected to the refrigerators in each apartment on the floors above. It operates automatically and has no motor, compressor or other movable parts."

When the machine was recently introduced in Chicago he said the gas company was besieged with such questions as, "Does the gas freeze?" "How is cold made from heat?" and "Where does the ice come from?"

My Secrets

Of beauty are yours now, if you wish

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I made myself a famous beauty, and that beauty brought me glory. I have kept that beauty to a grand old age. After 40 years in the limelight, I still look a girl of 19.

These facts are due to helps I found through years of world-wide searching. They are, I believe, the best beauty helps in existence. No one I know has, in other ways, attained any like results.

So I have had these helps prepared and placed where all may get them. And I hope to see them bring to millions the benefits I got.

Just Four Will Do

These beauty helps comprise 32 different factors. But great experts have combined them in four preparations. And all are sold at modest prices which every girl and woman can afford.

One is my White Youth Clay. A clean, refined clay, vastly more efficient than ordinary clays. A clay perfected by French experts through 20 years of scientific study.

My White Youth Clay brings a new complexion, rosy clear and clean. It combats all lines and wrinkles. No woman who once tries it will ever go without it. It costs 50 cents and $1.

Youthful Bloom

My Youth Cream is a cold cream like nothing else you know. It contains both lemon and strawberry. French experts have embodied in it the best skin helps they know. Apply it after the clay. Also use it as a night cream, also daytimes as a powder base. Keep it ever on the skin to feed and whiten, firm, soften and protect. The price is 60 cents.

My Facial Youth is a liquid cleanser, now used by leading beauty experts the world over. It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. So it cleans to the depths, then departs. And the dirt and refuse nothing else can reach comes with it. Great beauty experts charge $3 for it. Mine sells for 75 cents.

The Hair You Envy

My glorious hair is due to my Hair Youth. It is heavy, lustrous, and grows finer every year. Falling hair, dandruff and gray hairs are unknown to me.

My Hair Youth is applied with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. It does not muss the hair. It keeps the scalp like a well-kept garden where hair roots can flourish. It costs 50 cents and $1 with eye dropper.

All druggists and toilet counters supply these preparations, exactly as I use them. My Beauty book comes with each. They will bring you rich rewards. If you want more beauty, longer youth, these are the best ways science knows to get them. Edna Wallace Hopper. Business address, Waukesha, Wins.

NOTE—Miss Hopper is now playing the Pantages Vaudeville circuit of the Western States.

MY BOY AND I.

I thought I heard him sobbing low
After the lights were out;
What is the matter, son, I said,
What're you crying about?
I don't want you to die, daddy,
The little fellow said;
And he nestled close up to me
As there we lay in bed.

Imagine how it startled me
To hear him talk like that;
A little boy of seven years,
What was he driving at?
(Before retiring we had play'd
As children love to play,
His brown eyes sparkling with delight,
His laughter loud and gay.)

You darling little boy, said I,
You must not feel so sad,
For I am young and strong and well
Just like my little lad.
But, daddy, I don't want to grow
And be a grown up man,
I want to stay a little boy
And how I hope I can!

Because when I'm a man, daddy
Then you will go and die;
I won't have any daddy then
And that's what makes me cry.
Why, son, you musn't talk that way
Nor ever fret or cry,
For I shall live for many years
Before I have to die.

(And still, I wonder if it's true!
There's much that I regret,
The many things, I've left undone
And many failures met;
I'd like to live a long long time
And do a world of good,
Inspiring thus my noble boys
As ev'ry father should.)

But, daddy, when I grow up big
Then you'll be old and gray,
Wrinkled and stoop'd and maybe ill
And we can't romp and play;
That's why I want to always be
A little romping boy
For then I know you'll never die
And we'll have lots of joy.

But, son, no one can live always,
At least upon this earth;
For some die young and some die old
And some must die at birth;
But if we live a noble life
And nothing ever shirk,
If we are kind and love all men
And study hard and work,

It matters not how long we live
Nor when we have to die,
For God is good and knows what's best
For folks like you and I.
The little fellow seem'ed to think
That what I said was right,
He put his arms about my neck
And hugg'd me hard and tight.

—Ben B. Hunt,

BLUFFED THE BANDIT

FORT WORTH, Texas, Nov. 7.—The flame of chivalry burns fiercely in the heart of Harry Athens tho he's dusky as the well known ace of spades.

Held up here, Harry told the bandit that only over his dead body would his girl's beads, nestling in his pocket, be taken from him.

He kept the beads.

STEWART SAYS TEXAS MUST STRENGHEN OFFENSE

By MOULTON COBB

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 7.—"We will have to improve 50 per cent in our offense before we can hope to score one touchdown against Baylor University Saturday in Waco," stated E. J. "Doc" Stewart, the head Longhorn football coach, after seeing the Baylor-Aggie game last Saturday. "Our line will have to be strengthened, too, if we expect to hold the Bears in check," said Coach Stewart. The chief Longhorn men or left his team in charge of Coaches Seldon and Waite when the locals played Rice here and went to Waco to watch his two most formidable foes in action.

"Baylor has a wonderful team this year," according to the Longhorn coach. The Bears won the Southwestern championship last year and judging from their record this year they are equally as strong now, Coach Stewart pointed out.

Since the Vanderbilt game the Longhorns have not played good football. The Southwestern Pirates recently ran through the Texas line at will in the first quarter. The Rice Owls stopped the Longhorn offense here Saturday. Joe Ward, a linesman, was put into the backfield in the third quarter. He was the only Longhorn player who could gain consistently against the Owls.

Realizing that his team has only an outside chance to win over Baylor, Coach Stewart is working his players overtime this week. He is particularly trying to improve the backfield. Bully Gilstrap, a regular end, is being used in the backfield in practice. Gilstrap is big and fast but has an injured hip. This injury has lessened his value to the team this year. Joe Ward is being used at full back in practice. Joe hits the line hard but is unaccustomed to playing in the backfield. The fact that these linesmen have been moved to the backfield shows that Coach Stewart believes that his present offense is inadequate, according to University athletic officials.

Pat Neff's Hat To Go In The Republican Ring

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 7—A thoroughly Democratic head piece upon a thoroughly Republican brow!

Apparently strongly believing in the disconcerting influence of such a combination, Governor Pat Neff has sent his Texas hat to Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania on condition he wear it to the Republican National Convention next year.

At the recent governor's conference in West Baden, Indiana, Pinchot was fascinated by the wide brimmed, black felt top piece of the Texas governor and asked to try it on. It fit perfectly. When Governor Neff returned home here he immediately sent Governor Pinchot the hat.

Tom Cats And Other Cats In Big Cat Show

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 7—"Meow!"

The city auditorium resounded with the wails of members of the feline family, from the scrubby little alley denizen to the silky haired society pet as the three day Cat Show of the Houston Cat Club got under way here today.

Close to two hundred cats have entered for the show.

Mrs. Shannon Smith, cat fancier and judge of Kansas City, will judge the entries.

Fixed Principles

Some people say there is no such thing as a "fixed principle".

We maintain that the man who "saws wood and says little"—who works with his Hands and his Head—who spends a little less than he earns—who uses a good bank in every possible way is more likely to prove a success than the man who does not do these things.

We can prove that this is a winning principle at least, if not altogether a Fixed Principle.

We are anxious to back that sort of men.

Give Your Sole a Genuine Treat

You have thrown many a pair of good shoes away just becaues the soles were worn through. Perhaps the counters were out of shape, and the welts may have been "shot". Don't do it again. No matter what the condition of the shoe, if the upper is good we can rebuild it and make it almost like new. Perhaps there is a pair of shoes in your closet right this minute that need attention. Bring them to us and permit us to advise you. They may be saved, and many more weeks of wear put into them at very small expense. Be thrifty—have 'em repaired.

Mexia Shrine Club Plans To Play Santa Claus

Special Train To Ceremonial In Waco On Nov. 22

At a rousing meeting of the Mexia Shrine Club last night which was held in the Masonic Lodge room, two important questions were discussed and disposed of in a satisfactory manner.

The first important question disposed of was that of running a special train to Karem Temple's ceremonial in Waco on November 22nd. After much discussion pro and con as to the route over which the train should be run, it was agreed that the best interests of the Shrine Club would be served by starting the train at Teague and making the trip via T. & B. V. to Hubbard, thence Cotton Belt Route to Waco. Several Shriners from Teague were in attendance and stated that the Teague delegation were strongly in favor of running the train and would support it with about sixty or more passengers, provided it was decided to start the train at Teague; otherwise they were afraid they would not come to Mexia to board the train; the train service between Teague and Mexia making it impossible to get to and from Mexia and connect with a special operated from Mexia. Noble B. S. Holliman, Superintendent of the H. & T. C. offered to operate a special train via that line to Waco, making the same low rate as the short route offered by the T. & B. V. and Cotton Belt, which was very much appreciated by the Shriners, but it was brought out that in selecting the route the best interests of the Mexia Shrine Club should be taken care of; it being noted that Teague Shriners support the Mexia Shrine Club much better than any adjoining town, also Coolidge, and Hubbard can be reached by the route selected.

Post cards recently circulated by the Secretary in the form of a questionnaire brought the information that the Shrine body in this vicinity would support another special train, and the Secretary has been instructed to circulate tickets for sale at once in order to secure the required guarantee of approximately two hundred fares for the train.

The last special train operated to Waco by the Shriners was run exclusively for Shriners and their ladies; it was unanimously decided by those present last night that every Master Mason and his family be given an opportunity to make the trip on Nov. 22nd; thereby enjoying a days outing with the Shriners in Waco, witnessing all public ceremonies, and partaking of the fun on the trip going and returning. Tickets will be mailed to Shriners and placed on sale at prominent places in the city and all interested parties are urged to reserve their tickets as early as possible, in order that the railroad company may be notified as much in advance as possible, to allow them to arrange equipment for the train.

Another important question coming before the Shrine meeting was that of the Shrine Club assuming the role of Santa Claus on Christmas Day and spreading the broad mantel of charity to those whom circumstances have reduced their finances to the point of preventing Santa Claus from paying them a visit. This question in which much interest was manifested by every Shriner present, was discussed in detail, with the result that the Shrine Club proposed to produce the minstrel show in Groesbeck and possibly in Mexia again, the date to be immediately after returning from Waco on Nov. 22nd, which will be ample time to raise funds to be used for the charity work planned for Christmas day.

It was pointed out that the minstrel show in Mexia, despite the disagreeable weather and muddy condition of the street leading to the High School Auditorium, netted the Shrine Club about $200.00, which will be placed in the charity fund and it is hoped to build this fund up to six or seven hundred dollars by producing the minstrel show two more times; in Groesbeck and possibly Mexia, same to be advertised as the Shrine Charity minstrels and it hoped that the public will respond freely to the cause.

A committee was appointed to gather statistics and report back to the next called meeting of the club; duties of the committee being to secure names and provide a list of the families in the community who are in need of assistance; the committee being charged also with the duty of securing the co-operation of business houses who will furnish clothing and eats to the Shrine Club at the lowest price possible, in order that the money expended may go as far as possible and do the most good.

The committee consisted of the following:

A. H. Berry, chairman.
W. R. Storey
A. R. Etchison
E. L. Crow
J. Neddler

The following were named to work with the Shrine committee: Mrs. Houx and Mrs. Desenberg of the Red Cross; Mr. Lang of the Salvation Army and Kyle Stewart of Cheeves Brothers.

CORSICANA????

"The Mexia Daily News, largest circulation of any newspaper in any town of 10,000 in the Southwest."

The official Salesmanship car in which roed President Lee Pierson and Secretary Dick Wagner was also appropriately bannered as was also the Chamber of Commerce car driven by Secretary Ben Stollenwerck. About a half a dozen ladies were members of the party.

A few stayed over for the program at the Country Club given at night, but most of the party returned later in the afternoon.

At the noon banquet, the Elks club band was called upon "to do their stuff" which they did in pleasing fashion, the crowd of about 300 from all the leading cities of the Nation applauding generously.

Just after the noon program, the delegation gathered on the outside for the official picture of the convention and the Mexia group gathered behind the purple clad Elks formed a striking part of the photograph which will be published in many of the leading journals and newspapers of America.

J. W. Lindsey of Jackson Brothers was an active worker on the automobile committee, as was also E. M. Strange of the Overland and Willys Knight agency. It was due to their co-operation with Salesmanship club officials that the party was as large as it was. Many had signed up stating that they would attend and have a car in line, but at the last moment gave up the trip on account of adverse reports concerning the condition of the roads.

This defeated one purpose of the trip which was to show Mexia business men the importance of urging a campaign to keep the road between here and the world's largest oil field in passable condition.

Mr. Price and Richard Spillane, his co-worker in the field of writing and as gifted in portraying the were speakers at the luncheon.

romance of industry and business,

Mr. Price turned from the purveyor ofa dynamic idea in the formal councils of the convention to the role of entertainer in the luncheon forum. He was introduced by Charles H. Mills son of the late Roger Q. Mills, who warmly commended the efforts of Mr. Price at portraying the neglected qualities of romance in the history of Texas. In his brief introductory address Mr. Mills called attention to the position to Texas as the only State of the Union that won its independence by itself and sought membership in the society of the United States as a free and independent Nation.

Spillane Former Texan.

In a brief address Mr. Spillane referred to his own labors in the Texas newspaper field more than a score of years ago and of the immensity of possibility for agriculture and industrial expansion and development in Texas. He seconded Mr. Price's suggestion that the only barrier to Texas' future achievements has been inability to get people to come and see for themselves what is here.

Mr. Price's address was the only formal feature of the morning session.

The afternoon was a lively session devoted to a discussion briefly to the so-called "neosho plan" of co-operative mercantile advertising and sales promotions through a round-table tilt over the merits of the advertising work. Steadily the exhixit has grown year by year, and this year's collection ranging on three sides of the large auditorium is the largest yet assembled. The thirty or forty exhibits represent the enterprise of local clubs, advertising agencies, printing houses, engravers, artists and out-of-door advertisers.

The advertising displays were exhibited in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, where the afternoon session was held. Harold Kayton of San Antonio conducted the critique of exhibits and it developed into a free for all.

Exposition of the principles of the Neosho plan, named for the Missouri town where it was formally launched by Gurney Lowe, now counsellor of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World and promotion of the organization of such systems was undertaken extemporaneously by Carl Hunt, manager of the organization, because of the delay of Mr. Lowe. Mr. Hunt told briefly of the success of the enterprise in Neosho, where merchants co-operated in the staging of an advertising campaign and the promotion of Tuesday sales days in which different merchants featured different articles. Questions were propounded to Mr. Hunt at the end if the discussion. The plan has been most successful in towns of 5,000 population and less than 12,000, he said, though variations of the plan may be made adaptable to communities both larger and smaller, he agreed.

Advertising Criticised.

The advertising powwow was strictly a session of shop talk. Goading his company along, Mr. Kayton got "hammer and tongs" action out of the critics. Sometimes they found the pieces of advertising on the wall "very, very good," and sometimes they were "no more than horrid," until a spirited defender got the floor.

Others formally on the program with Mr. Kayton were A. H. Caddalder, San Antonio; J. C. Binkley, Sherman; George B. Forristal of Houston, R. C. mont and Percy Montgomery of El Dyer of Dallas, Otto Bruck of Beau-Paso, but there were a score or more who found voice for rapt praise or sharp condemnation during the hour.

Percy Montgomery made a stirring plea to the advertising fraternity to Exhibits of an advertising campaign utilize innate beauty in their work. to popularize San Antonio as a resort were lauded by Mr. Bruck and Mr. Cadwalder explained the success that attended the efforts in the campaign.

Comment was made by Mr. Kayton in opening the session on the progress that has been made in collecting a representative exhibit of men as contenders.

Convention Closes Wednesday.

The convention will be concluded Wednesday afternoon with a tour of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce with R. J. J. Jackson, president, and Oscar C. B. Nau, manager, in charge. The excursion will be made on a special train over the Trinity & Brazos Valley Railroad tracks. A special demonstration of a gusher "going over the top" will be presented the visitors

At a final luncheon Wednesday the Rotary Club will be hosts with John C. Calhoun presiding. JohnE. Dewild of St. Louis will be the speaker.

Missionary Ladies Of Methodist Church To Observe Week of Prayer With All Day Program Thursday

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church will observe "Week of Prayer" at the church Thursday with a "Spend the Day" party.

The first program begins at 11:00 o'clock and the afternoon program starts at 2:15.

Concerning the subject "Why Appoint a Week of Prayer," the Missionary Voice in a recent issue has the following to say, which is contributed by Mrs. George Peyton of the local society:

This pertinent question comes home to the busy woman—the wife, the mother, the teacher. Why set aside these first days of November, when there are a thousand things to do, and ask 257,000 of these busy home-makers to assemble themselves together one hour a day for three days in the week, or even for one whole day out of the working six? What is the program which calls for this sepecializing in time, effort and money?

Taking up the items of the program in their order of importance let us each one establish in her own mind that this first week of November, 4-10, in the year 1923, is primarily for specific, definite prayer. It is supposed that our women are women of prayer, that they know the way to the Throne of Grace, that their fellowship with the Master is close and precious, that it is easy to find God and to lay before Him the things we so desire. For ourselves, our families and friends, our Church, our mission fields, and for many things dear to our hearts, we talk with the Father, believing that He hears and answers.

But not many, perhaps, out of these almost three thousand members of the Woman's Missionary Council remember daily, for even three days in any one week, some specific field, or institution or workers. We sum them up together and say, "Lord, you know them and love them, and we trust your love and care." Thus we fail to get ourselves familiar with the conditions under which the various places and department of work are carried on, the names of the workers, the needs and opportunities, and miss the reflex blessing that always comes to the intercessor in personal, definite praper.

Adult auxilaries are asked to pray together this year for the Nashville Bethlehem House Center, and for the Laura Haygood Demonstration School in Soochow, China. This means that we acquaint ourselves with their history, how and why they came into being, what kind of community they serve, why they need enlargement, what will be the results of such enlargement. We will learn the names of the missionaries at work in these fields and will come into closer sympthy and a greater desire to become, ourselves, helpers in their labors. And ever after we will be more a part of the Nashville Bethlehem Center and the Laura Haygood Demonstration School.

McKINNEY SCHOOL OPEN HOUSE TO BE HELD THURSDAY

Invitations have been received by the Lions club of Mexia; Chamber of Commerce officials, Mexia Daily News staff and many other citizens especially inviting them to an open house to be given by the members of 6-B class at the McKinney Street Grammar School Thursday evening at 7:30. A large number of citizens are expected to be present and to see just what Mexia has to offer the rising generation in the way of facilities for their education.

GREENVILLE, Texas, Nov. 7.—Ed Harvey was fatally injured, his son Otis Harvey and Raymond Nash were seriously hurt when the truck in which they were riding was struck by a passenger train near here Tuesday afternoon. They were brought here for treatment.

The men were members of a party from Mena, Arkansas enroute to Phoenix, Arizona.

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 7.—Heavy scrimmage and additional overhead work made up the program for the Sooners today in their last home practice before entraining for the meeting with the Missouri eleven at Columbia Saturday.
